ROUND TABLE

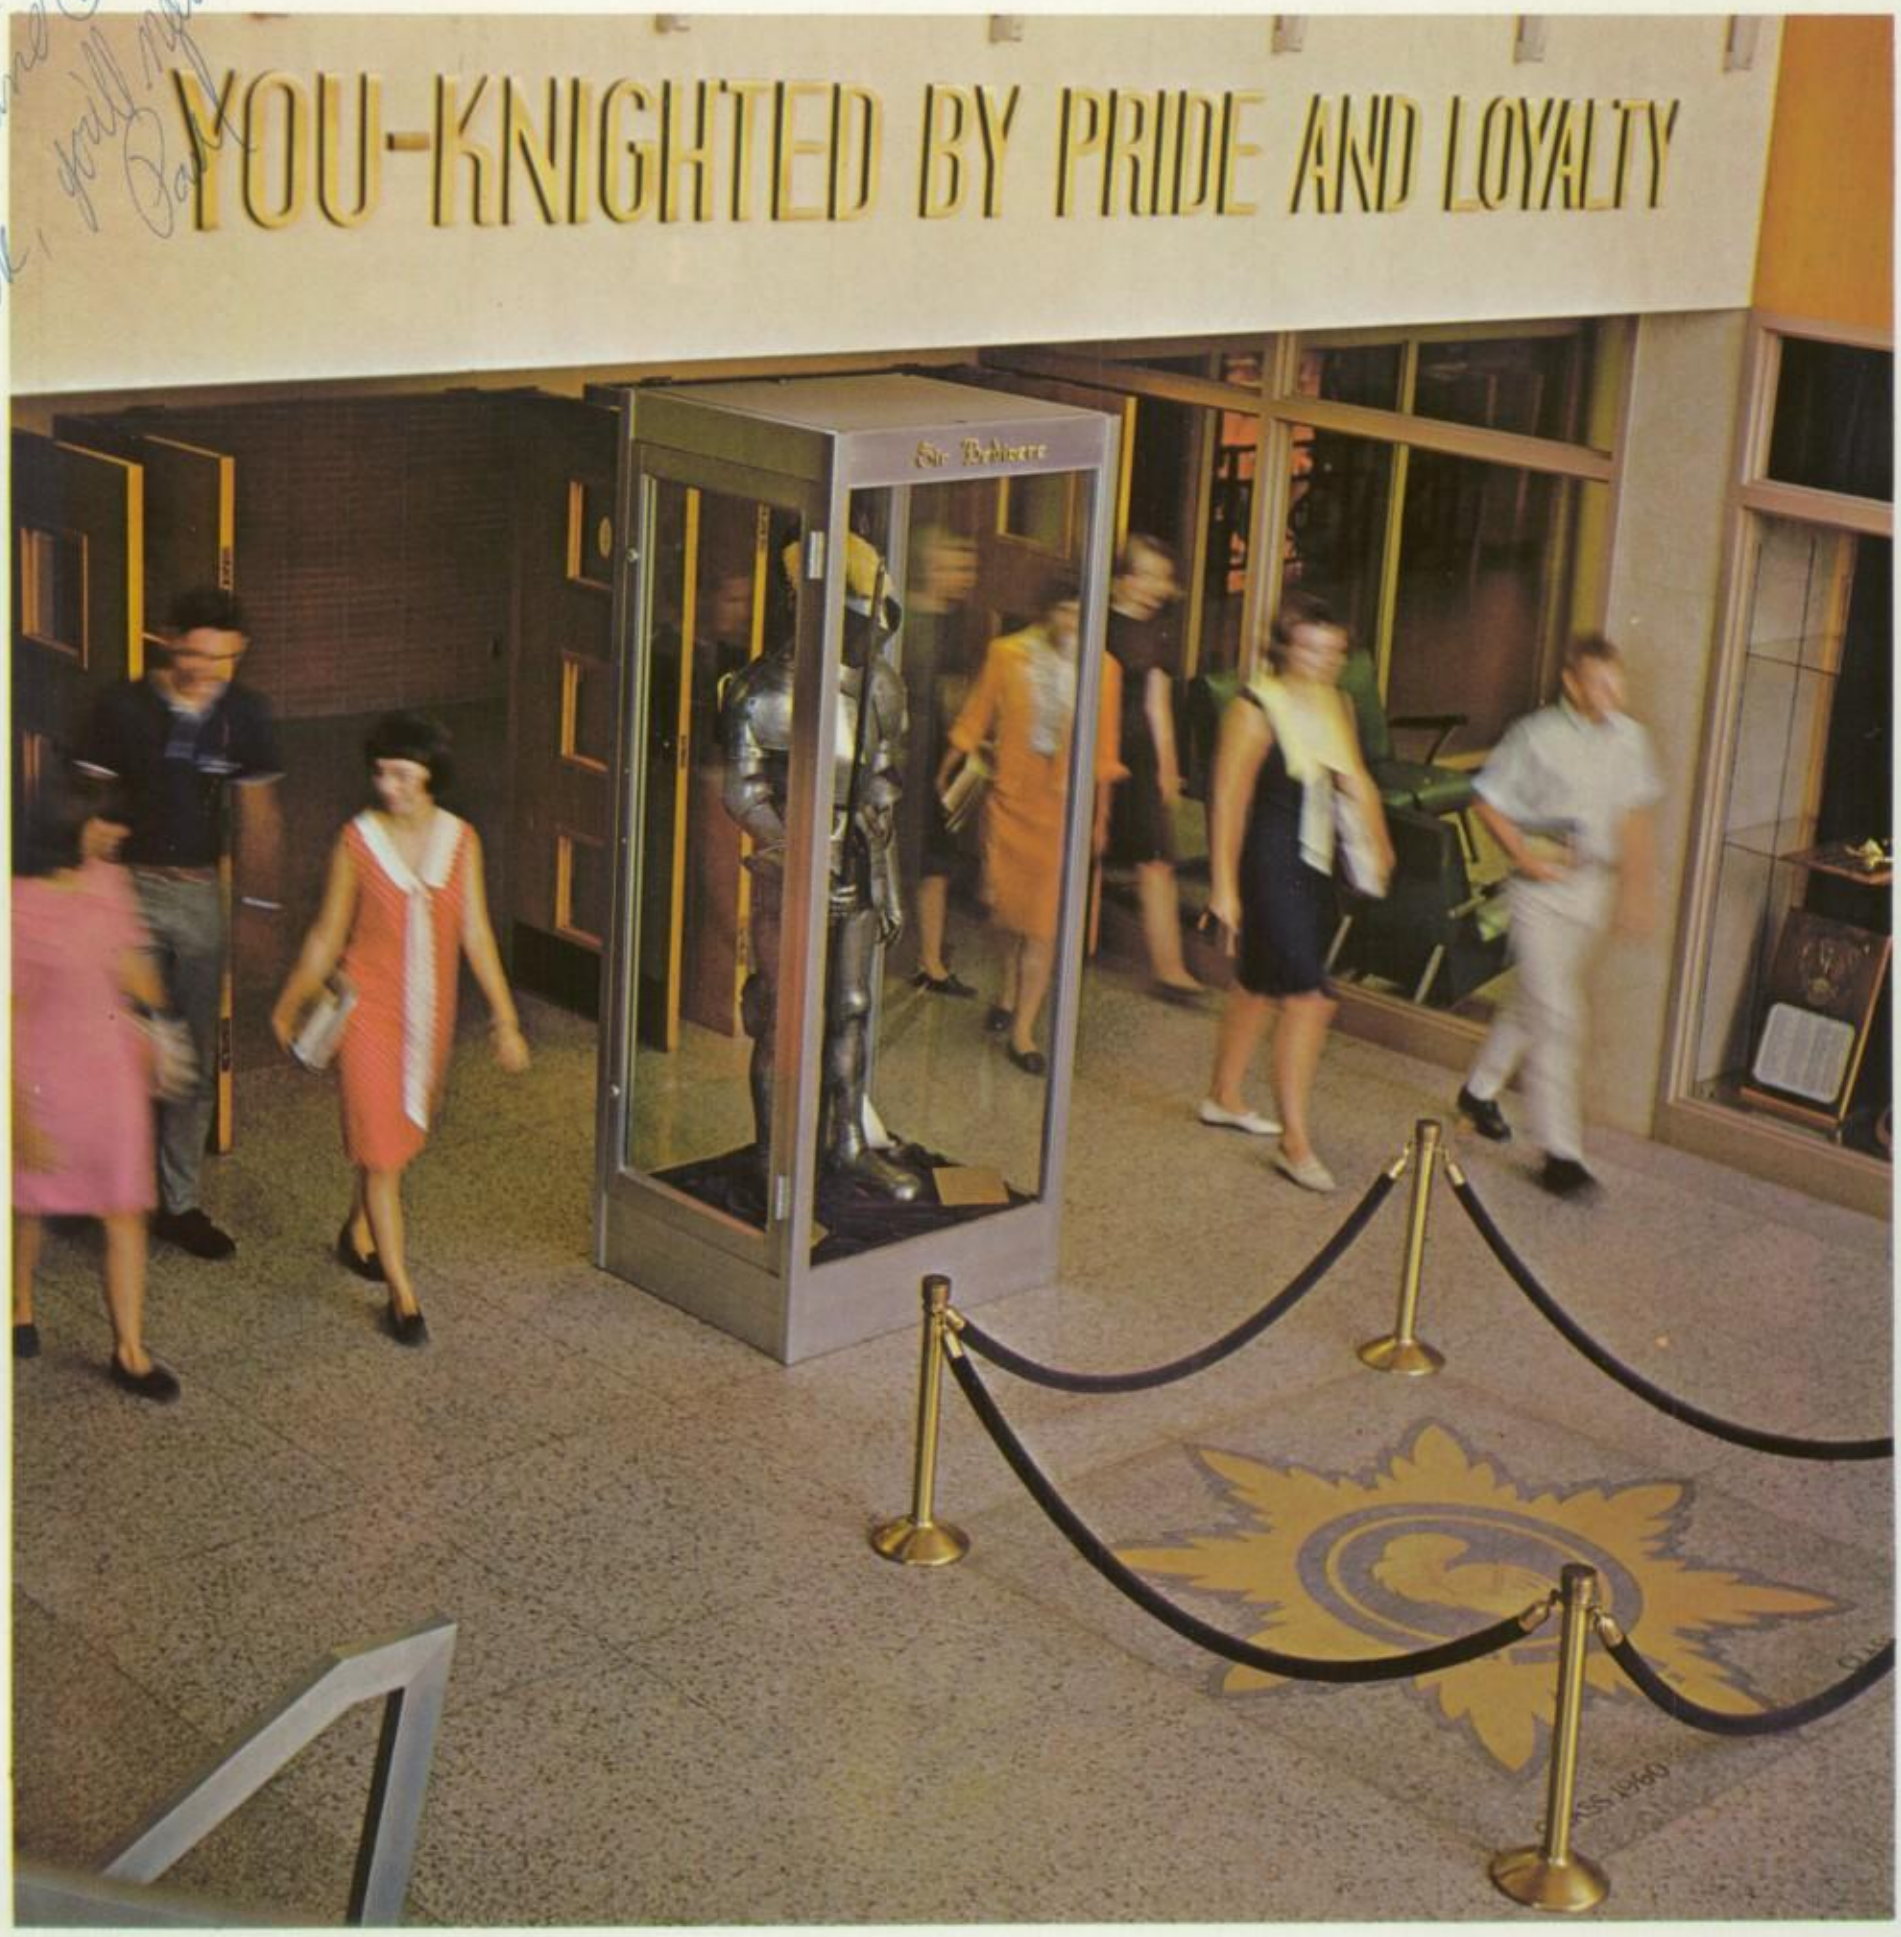
Symbols of devotion abound in Knightland, enriching and strengthening the ties we share— mirroring the badge of unity, loyalty, purpose.



Foreword

"TOGETHERNESS" is a strength displayed in every facet of life at Northwest Classen.

All who pass through the realm of Knightland add depth and breadth to her character and give her warmth. Every person who brings her something of himself takes away much, much more.

With the passing of the first decade, school life settles into a regular pattern. We now cherish the traditions established in our earlier years, just as the code of chivalry was revered in Medieval times, and in those traditions we find the unifying force which gives Northwest her character.

This strength is reinforced each day as we enter the front door and are reminded of our sense of obligation to those who have gone before us. . .
You-Knighted by Pride and Loyalty.

CUTTING across the patio between classes provides students a welcomed breath of fresh air.

REGISTERING cars in parking lots is one of many ways Key Clubbers contribute their services. Junior Jerry Geurin applies a windshield sticker when a safety check and forms are completed.

Spirit of Unity Provides Inspiration for Success

PRIDE and LOYALTY are not just idle words engraved on Northwest's school motto but are intangibles exemplified in every phase of school endeavor.

Students pass on this attitude to others from day to day and year to year. From association with this school, many students have reached their goal in life—success and happiness.

In our friendly attitude toward fellow students, our willingness to work for the school and community, our recognition of outstanding students and accomplishments, and our support of Knight teams we prove that this feeling of pride and loyalty is what makes Northwest Classen great.

The strength of continuity and successive individual excellence is the distinctive mark of the school. This record of accomplishment, however, is only the by-product of a deep, driving motivation, almost urgency, which compels us to move forward.

Whether it be the enthusiastic furor of a cheering section or the quiet pride of reading "Northwest Classen" in the newspaper, a spirit of unity has always been the motivating force for NWC students.

CONFUSED parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Finefrock, are directed to rooms at PTSA Open House by Nancy Baker and Mike Newman, Courtesy and Key Club members, who are always on duty at school events.

TROPHY cases bulge in testimony to Knight achievements. Charles Ogden and Bobbi Arentz relish their job of polishing trophies.

"THIS ONE could be an UFO," psychology students Roberta Johnson, Chris Woodward, and Connie Montgomery conclude as they examine ink blots, Psychologist Rorschach's method of analyzing personality.

FIERY baton routines, featuring senior majorettes Lee Ann Welch and Beverly Wilkison, highlighted halftime shows.

Pride, Loyalty, Purpose Greater in Big School

One of the most rewarding parts of attending Northwest Classen was sharing in the different joys, interests, troubles, hopes, and dreams of some 3,050 classmates.

When the front doors opened each morning all types of a busy day's problems rushed out.

In the colorful kaleidoscope of activities and learning processes, students found themselves and grew according to their individual talents and ambitions.

Classes contained 775 seniors, 650 juniors, 825 sophomores, and 800 freshmen—all contributing to the pattern established by Knights and Ladies.

Yet because of its size, Northwest offered many advantages—opportunity to meet a tremendous diversity of personalities, extensive course offerings, superior physical facilities, and high-caliber staff.

And, paradoxically, there was a greater feeling of unity, loyalty, and purpose. Students felt they were part of something significant—something more than "just a school."

"Yea, Knights!" AFS'er's Lizzie Van Staden and Marianne Sutter (front row, left to right) quickly absorb school spirit by joining pep club sections.

Philosophy of Newness Expressed by Students

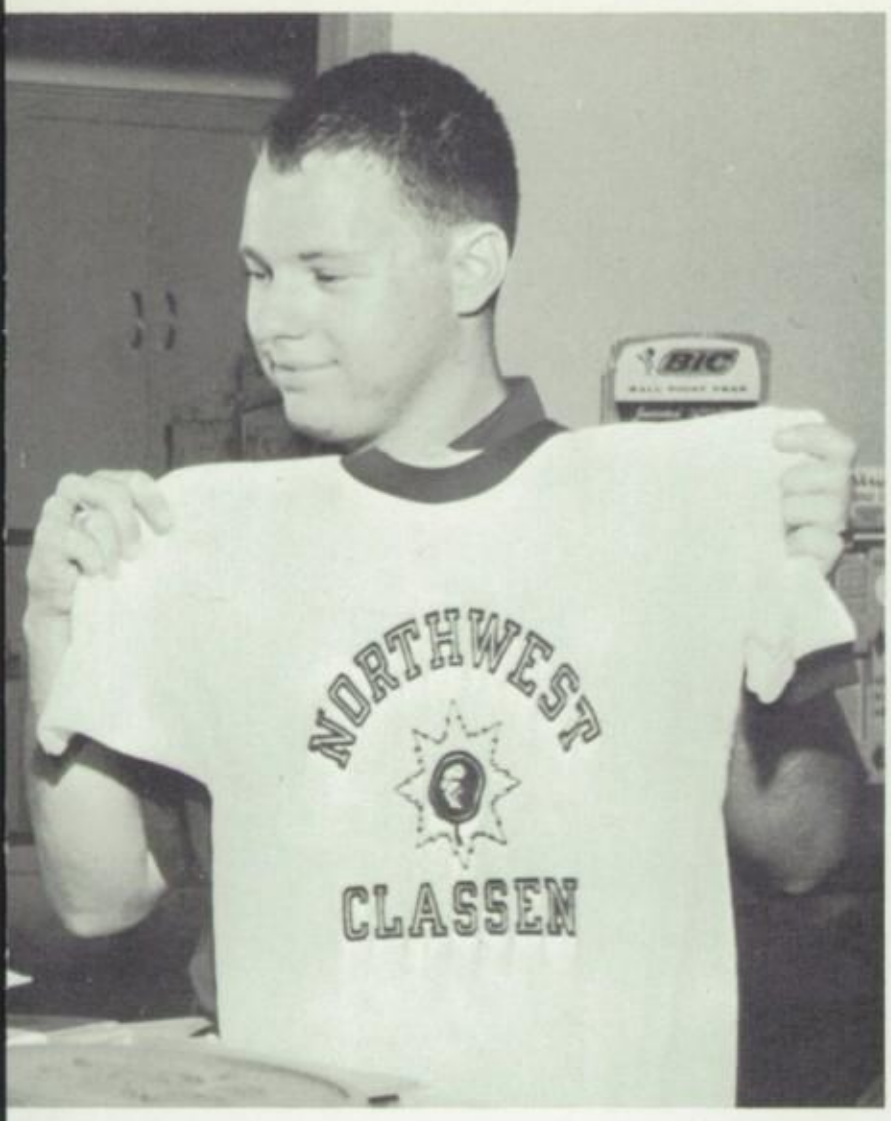
STRENGTH comes from unity, and Knights evidenced "togetherness" in every aspect of school life.

Never satisfied with the easily attainable, Knights have always reached out for that "something better," only achieved by the persevering. The state and national honors received each year by NWC students surprise none of us: we do no less than our best, and we expect the same of others.

This dedication was shown in daily tasks performed by students in school departments and organizations: the Cry-slurs coming to school at 7:30 a.m. to rehearse for the Honor Chorus, Shield staffers meeting at night to fold the school papers, Courtesy and Key Club members participating in the United Appeal campaign, Student Council committees making posters and decorations for all school events.

New ideas and new concepts in teaching were embraced. New laboratory equipment and teaching devices were added. School elections were executed by voting machines. Every student was identified by an IBM card, and grades were recorded by machine.

PATIENCE and TACT were needed by Counselor Ola Mae Oakes when she was confronted by long lines of students crowded into the counselors' offices seeking schedule changes at the beginning of school. She and the other five counselors kept busy with enrollment the first two weeks.



TAKING ADVANTAGE of freshman Denise Moses' lack of sales resistance, Johnny Garrett displays merchandise in the student store. Student Council operates the popular shopping center.

DRAMATIC EMPHASIS is given Mr. Heinrich's algebra lesson as he utilizes the overhead projector, a valuable teaching aid, for daily class drill.

ACCEPTING TROPHIES is a habit for Mr. Malone, who receives the Majorettes' award for winning first place in the Kilgore, Texas, clinic.

"BUT it's the best I can do," John Musgrave insists to Janie Phillips after he shines the emblem on the gym floor.

SCHOOL SPIRIT even invades the cafeteria when pennants in desserts and salads greet Chris Lowry and Kent Miller the day of the Putnam City football game.

TYPICAL Knightland hospitality was extended AFS students. Lizzie Van Staden, from South Africa, and Gene Smith float lazily while Jeanette Points, with her poodle, Therese Cabell, Jim Ivins, Marianne Sutter, from Switzerland, and Cliff Lewis lounge around the Cabell pool.

REQUIRED parties? Shield staff members attended "folding parties" every two weeks.

ABLAZE with light one crisp autumn night, Northwest Classen opens its doors to parents for PTSA Open House.

Majestic Landmark— A Symbol of Quality

STANDING majestically on a gently sloping hill surrounded by a beautifully landscaped campus, Northwest Classen incorporates unique architecture combined with modern, utilitarian design on the interior as well as the exterior.

But Northwest Classen's beauty is more than brick deep. There are many other qualities which contribute to her personality and character. A top administrative staff and faculty, plus a spirited, proud student body, have produced an atmosphere which is rich in experience and opportunity.

Halls throb with the hum of everyday life as students rush around contributing to the exciting adventure that is Life at Northwest Classen.

From the time we gather for a gabfest with friends before first hour at 8:30, until 3:30 when we rush to a meeting or drag out of the building "beat" after a jam-packed day, we have the feeling of being a real part of this school.

A PAT on the back by Cindy Green and Charlie Ogden gives Dan Blaschke a much-needed lift after the heartbreaking homecoming loss to Enid.

DR. JACK F. PARKER
Superintendent of Schools

Growing School System Served by Leaders

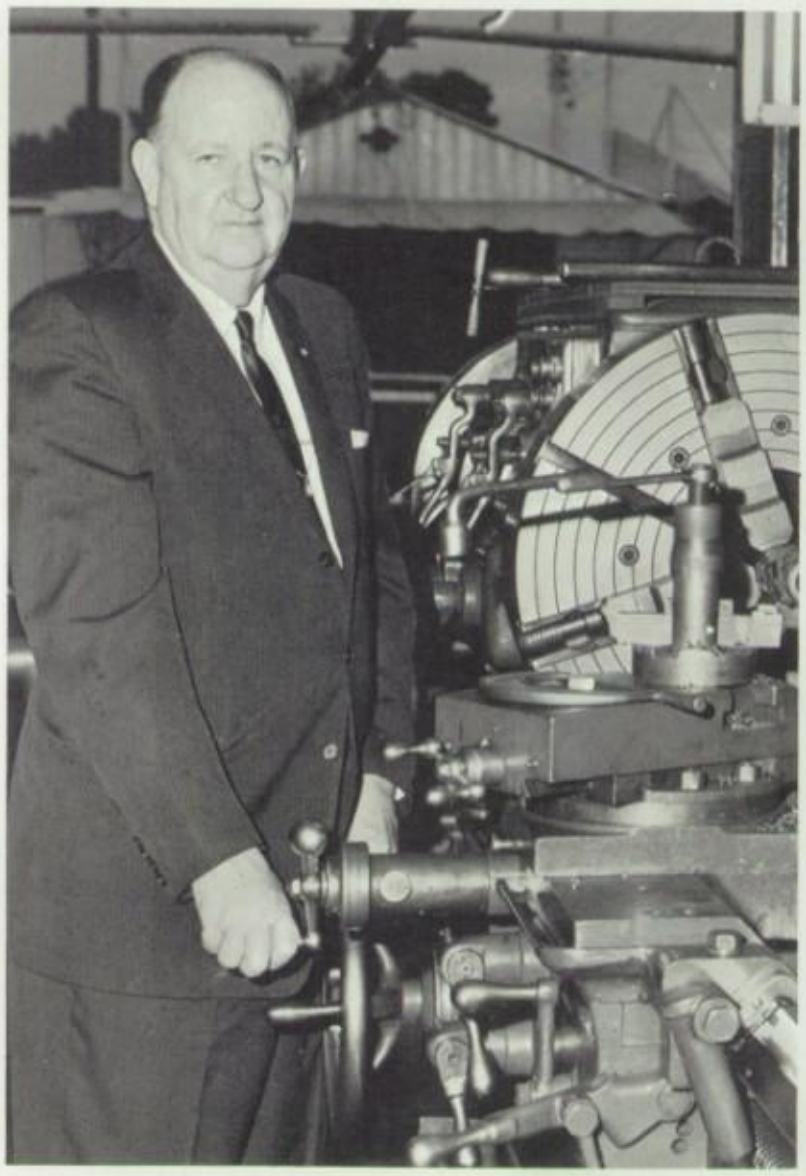
NOW in his fifth year as school superintendent, Dr. Parker, working with the School Board members, has directed the tremendous expansion of the Oklahoma City school system.

This past year new schools have been finished, new methods introduced for instructing science and advanced classes in mathematics and language. Modern facilities have been installed to implement the instructional program.

Oklahoma City is able to maintain its high standards because of the unselfish dedication of the members of the School Board who serve without pay.

Giving up valuable time from their business enterprises and professions, school board members exemplify the ultimate in good citizenship as they devote time and effort to considering the needs and problems of the city's vast school system.

DEMONSTRATING equipment on OSU's experimental farm is Mr. W. F. Lott, Board Member from Ward III, who serves as the farm's superintendent.

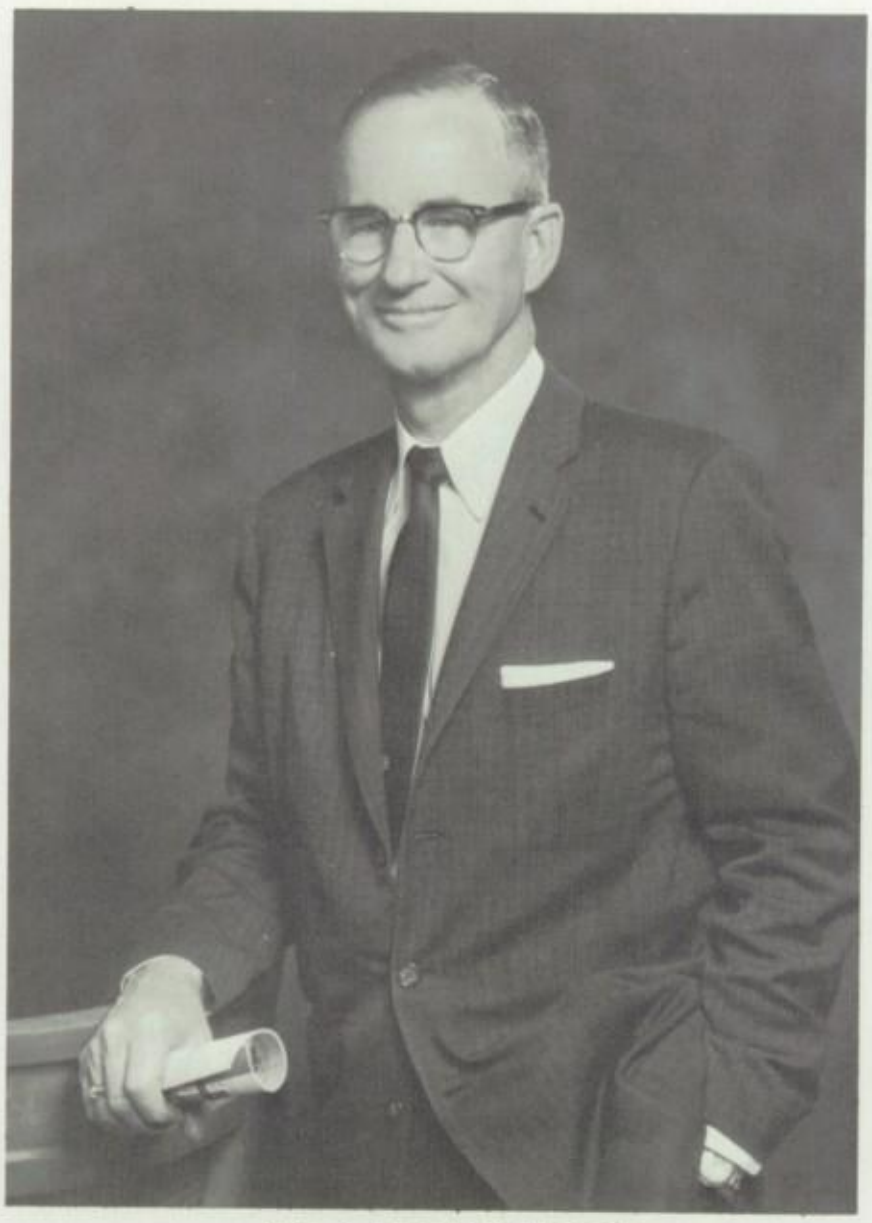


OPERATING a machine shop is one of Mr. Foster Estes' enterprises. He represents Ward II on the School Board.

TEACUPS from all over the world are included in the collection of Mrs. Warren Welch, Board Member from Ward I.

CHRISTMAS decorations attract Dr. Virgil T. Hill, psychologist, and Mrs. Hill. Dr. Hill was elected Member-at-Large in November.

OPENING the bank each morning is one duty of Mr. Melvin Rogers, Ward II, who is president of the Spencer State bank as well as the School Board.



MR. J. FRANK MALONE
Principal

Principal Brings Honors to Himself, His School

EACH YEAR Northwest's principal brings new honors to himself and to Northwest Classen.

Mr. Malone was named one of the eight top Central State College graduates at the school's 75th anniversary ceremonies October 2. He was tapped for the new edition of Who's Who in the South and Southwest, which was published in August.

Downtown Rotary Club members elected Mr. Malone to a two-year term on their Board of Directors. A new thirty-two member advisory committee at Oklahoma University chose him to head the group formed to improve articulation between state high schools and the university.

In addition to his professional achievements, the administrator's high standards have been reflected in his accomplishments at NWC.

He has worked tirelessly to assemble a superior instructional staff, to improve physical facilities, and to provide for the students an outstanding curriculum and activity program.

LEAVING for a national executive committee meeting of the National Secondary School Principals Association is Mr. Malone, only Oklahoman ever elected to the seven-man board, governing body of the association.

MR. LEON BRUNER
Assistant Principal

MR. ROBERT GAUT
Assistant Principal

MR. ROBIN GASTON
Administrative Intern

Administrative Team Provides Special Services

FUNCTIONING as a team, administrators and counseling staff worked together to provide the best possible services for Northwest Classen students.

In addition to helping formulate school policies, the assistant principals had special responsibilities in school administration.

Mr. Bruner worked with the department of research at the Central Office on all problems relating to accounting. Other assignments included preparing daily bulletins and making master schedules.

Mr. Gaut was in charge of locker and parking space assignments, safety education, and was business manager of the Round Table.

Guidance specialists offered individual counseling, kept complete student records, maintained a strong testing program, and supplied college bound students with scholarship and entrance requirement information.

Guidance coordinator, Mr. Weinert, supervised schedule changes, secretarial help, and work of the registrar plus supervising the IBM schedule.

Educational information was Miss Wester's specialty. She communicated with faculty and students concerning guidance materials and test information.

Mr. Milburn was responsible for vocational information, Mr. Heusel for the testing program.

Mrs. Wakely worked with guidance information related to individual records such as cumulative records, home-bound study, parent-teacher conferences and correspondence study.

Staff Philosophy Views Learning as Exchange

THE PHILOSOPHY of Northwest Classen's staff is that learning is a two-way street where teachers and students exchange ideas and experiences.

The smooth operation of the school depended heavily upon the leadership of the 127-member staff. Consisting of 103 teachers, 14 secretaries, 6 counselors, 2 assistant principals, administrative intern, activities director, nurse, two librarians, and vocational rehabilitation director, the school personnel was completed by 24 cafeteria workers and 19 custodial workers.

In addition to the duties of teaching and sponsoring extra-class activities, faculty members enjoyed family responsibilities and participated in church and community activities. They crowded into their busy lives courses to complete higher degrees, and they took time out for travel, relaxation, and hobbies.

Top Professional Posts Held by NWC Faculty

TOP professional posts were held by staff members as NWC's faculty boasted a high percentage of membership in OEA, NEA, and Oklahoma City Classroom Teachers Association.

Mrs. Findly, runnerup for Oklahoma City Teacher of the Year, was named to Dr. Parker's Planning Committee for the Oklahoma City District. She also served on the state OEA Board of Directors' Executive Committee.

Mr. Gardner presided over the Oklahoma City English Council. He was also a member of the OEA Board of Directors and was press secretary for Oklahoma City Classroom Teachers Association.

For the second consecutive year Mrs. Davidson served on the Mathematics Board of Directors for OEA. Representing Northwest's faculty as a delegate to District OEA was Mrs. Ball, who attended monthly meetings.

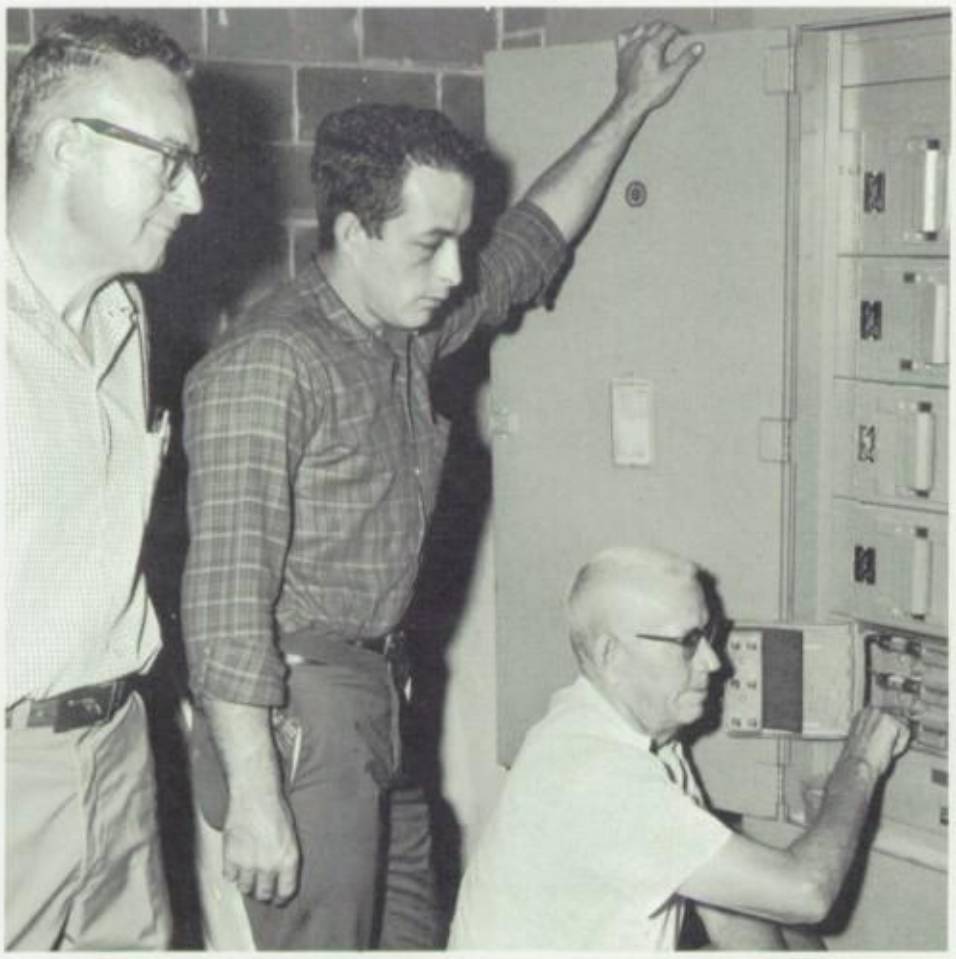
FOOD tastes better after Mrs. Nettie Young, new manager, adds the finishing touches to salads.

COCONUT PIE is a favorite with cafeteria customers. Mrs. Freda Ethridge and Mrs. Jessye Dorst, two of the twenty-five ladies who work in the cafeteria, prepare for lunch lines.



CHECKING circuit breakers are Mr. Raymond Tartar, ass't. head custodian, Mr. Doug Roden, floorman, and Mr. Sam Teague, head of the 19-man custodial staff which keeps the building's mechanical operations running smoothly.

Special Services Create Pleasant Atmosphere

PLEASANT SURROUNDINGS added to the enjoyment of students and teachers, and much credit was due to the cafeteria workers, maintenance and custodial staff who prepared food, kept the campus beautiful and the mechanical operations inside the building running smoothly.

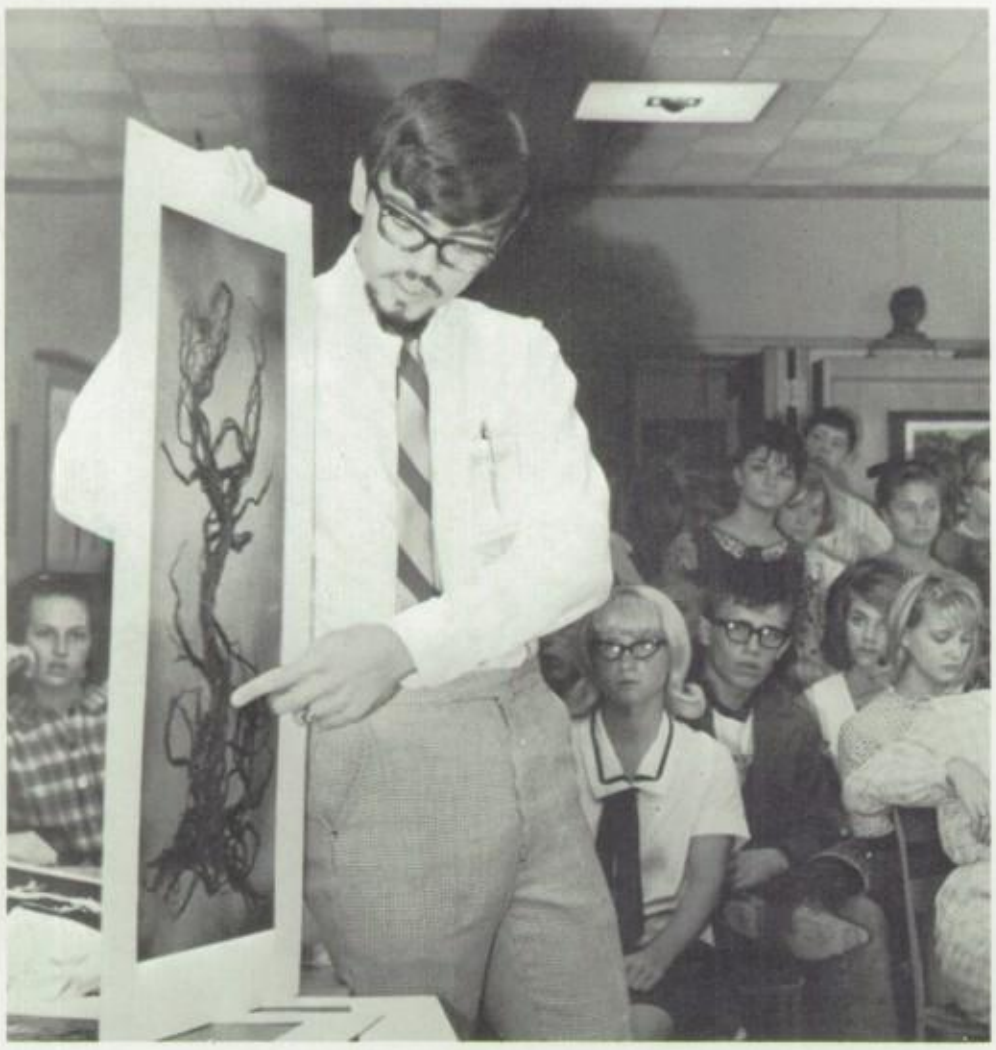
Pride in maintaining the building and grounds has become traditional as Northwest has been a showplace for a constant stream of visitors since its opening eleven years ago.

A new cafeteria manager stressed appetizing food service by adding attractive embellishments to dishes. She directed twenty-five ladies in food preparation, not only for daily lunch lines, but for the numerous dinner meetings held at Northwest, the largest school plant in this area.

Although the extra dinners necessitated additional work hours for the custodial and cafeteria staffs, they cooperated whole-heartedly in providing courteous, friendly service for guests, students, and faculty.

CREATIVENESS emerges in sculpture class as Diana Moses, John Hardin, and Mallory Hartman make original pieces from terra cotta clay, wood, metal, and plaster.

POSTERS for all school activities are designed and drawn by Robert Shackleford, Chris Woodward, and Dale Page, supervised by Mrs. Jenkins.



WHO would ever imagine ravelings of material could create such interesting effects? Former student Bob Bender interprets his unique drawings to art classes.

Art Forms Explored as Creativity Emerges

HARMONY AND COLOR complementing the academic courses in students' lives were provided by the art department. Students developed techniques along with pleasing results in the fields of painting, design, illustrating, lettering, layout work, weaving, leather tooling, wood carving, ceramics, mosaics, costume designing, and metal smithing.

Fundamentals of art were learned in first year classes when novices explored ceramics, crafts, and painting. Advanced students enjoyed creative outlets and achieved recognition in gallery displays.

A committee of art students was responsible for approving all posters displayed in the building. At Christmas time the school turned into a veritable fairyland, with offices, halls and showcases decorated by art students.

Increased enrollment in commercial art required formation of an additional class this year.

Originality, imagination, and interpretation were stressed by instructors in the approach to teaching all forms of art.

Rewarding Arts, Skills Challenge Homemakers

THAT being a good homemaker is a rewarding and highly skilled achievement is an accepted fact today. No longer do the duties of a mother and housewife seem unimportant and monotonous.

Proof that this is true was evidenced by some 500 Northwest girls who enrolled in Home Nursing, Family Relations, Clothing, Foods, Home Decorating, Homemaking, and Child Care.

Designed to prepare girls to safeguard the health and happiness of the family, course work was centered around problems of social adjustments, recreation, rest, safety, housing, food, and clothing. The all-important family budget, household economics, and professional careers were carefully considered.

Homemakers participated in national and local contests. Glenda Bray served as special correspondent to Co-ed magazine; she reported projects, such as holiday decorations, which concerned homemaking classes.

In the spring child care classes got practical experience operating a nursery school. Toys and materials used in the project were constructed by class members.

At Christmas time interior decorating classes designed centerpieces and holiday decorations.

THE BEST PART of cooking classes, agree Paula Wake, Nikki Potter, and Sue Porter, is eating the goodies, like tasty blueberry muffins.

PROPER methods of helping patients to get out of bed is demonstrated by Stephanie Stephens and Veta Austin in Home Nursing class.

DATING is one of the many teenage problems considered by the panel of senior boys appearing before the Family Relations class. Boys were carefully chosen by girls in the classes.

"WHAT'S it made of?" Stephanie Farrand wants to know as she examines a slide in biology.

A SPECIAL microscope for testing and analyzing crystals was constructed by John Anderson.

Science Viewed as Great Modern Adventure

COLLABORATING on their research projects for science seminar class, Larry Govin and Ann Harris inject tranquilizers into rats to test their reactions.

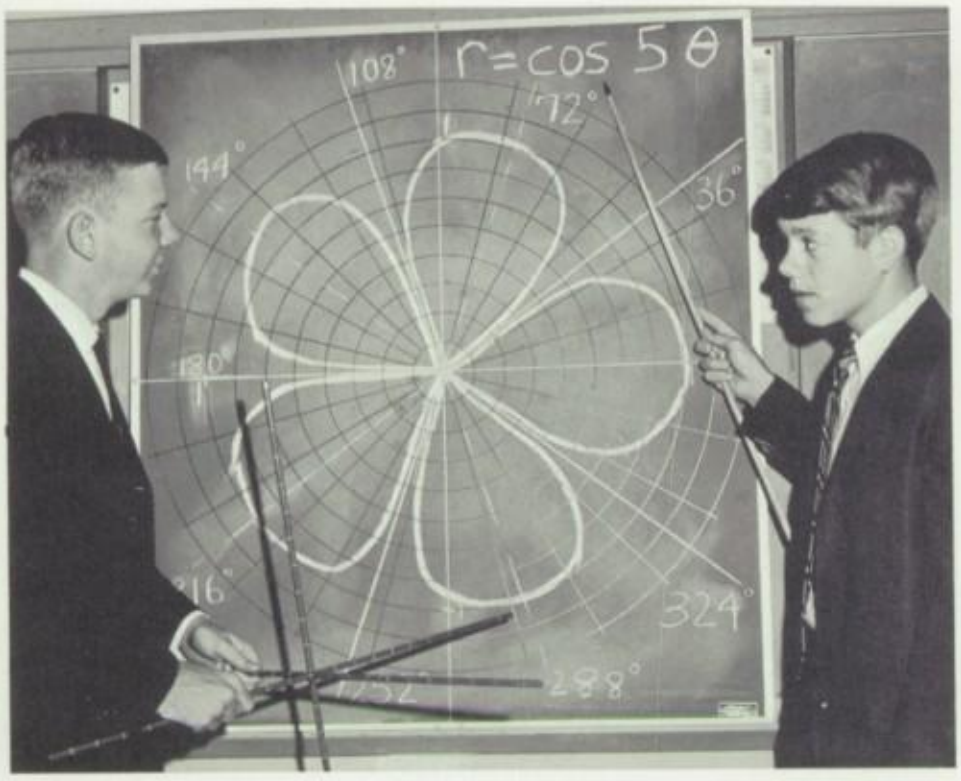
CURIOSITY and interest of students in Northwest's forty-five science classes proved that science is truly the great modern adventure.

What makes it tick? Where'd it come from? What's it made of? are questions that confront mankind from the cradle to the grave.

Classes of general science, biology, physics, chemistry, electronics, earth science, and science seminar were crowded with students eager to understand the present day's emphasis on both the physical and natural sciences.

Especially on lab days there was excitement in the air. In a laboratory a student could discover and prove, by himself and for his own satisfaction, that the laws in the book actually work. And there, abstract ideas became clear through practical graphic demonstrations.

Science students took advantage of facilities outside school, often taking tours of local installations having scientific interest. The annual Science Fair stimulated out-of-class experimentation and research.



"IT'S A ROSE!" Karl Johnson proves a point in math analysis to Rusty Smith.

GEOMETRIC MODELS serve a useful purpose as Mark Johnson and Craig Tigert decorate Mr. Rodney St. Dizier's Christmas tree.

FOR A SHORT CUT to problem solving, the slide rule is a handy gadget, Diane Kurk and Ann Harris agree as they tackle a trigonometry lesson.

Updated Mathematics Keeps Pace With Needs

CONCERNED with the stronger demands of colleges for stepped-up programs on the secondary level, the sixteen-member mathematics faculty completed detailed courses of study for each level.

New courses, such as analytic geometry, were offered on an experimental basis.

Systematic methods of reasoning and the necessity of "depth" comprehension were stressed in both the general and advanced courses from basic mathematics through algebra, geometry, and math analysis.

Students were made aware of the values of the subject in its everyday applications as well as being stimulated to investigate other scientific fields.

Mr. St. Dizier, department chairman, was named one of the top graduates of Central State College during the 75th anniversary celebration at the school in the fall. He was honored at a banquet.

With Mrs. Davidson serving as chairman, teachers were hosts for all state mathematics meetings during the OEA convention in October.

For the fourth consecutive year the mathematics faculty boasted 100% membership in the Oklahoma City, State, and National Councils of Teachers of Mathematics.

Wider Understanding Foretells World Peace

SINCE communication means the difference between friendly or hostile relations between peoples of the world, students found language study a challenge in this modern age.

Northwest's nine language teachers placed special emphasis on clear communication as recording booths gave students the opportunity to hear their language spoken properly. Lessons were recorded and speech difficulties ironed out in updated laboratory methods.

In addition, all courses of study sought a level of conversational "ease" and a wide acquaintance with the history, peoples, attitudes, problems, and literature of the French, Spanish, German, and Latin countries.

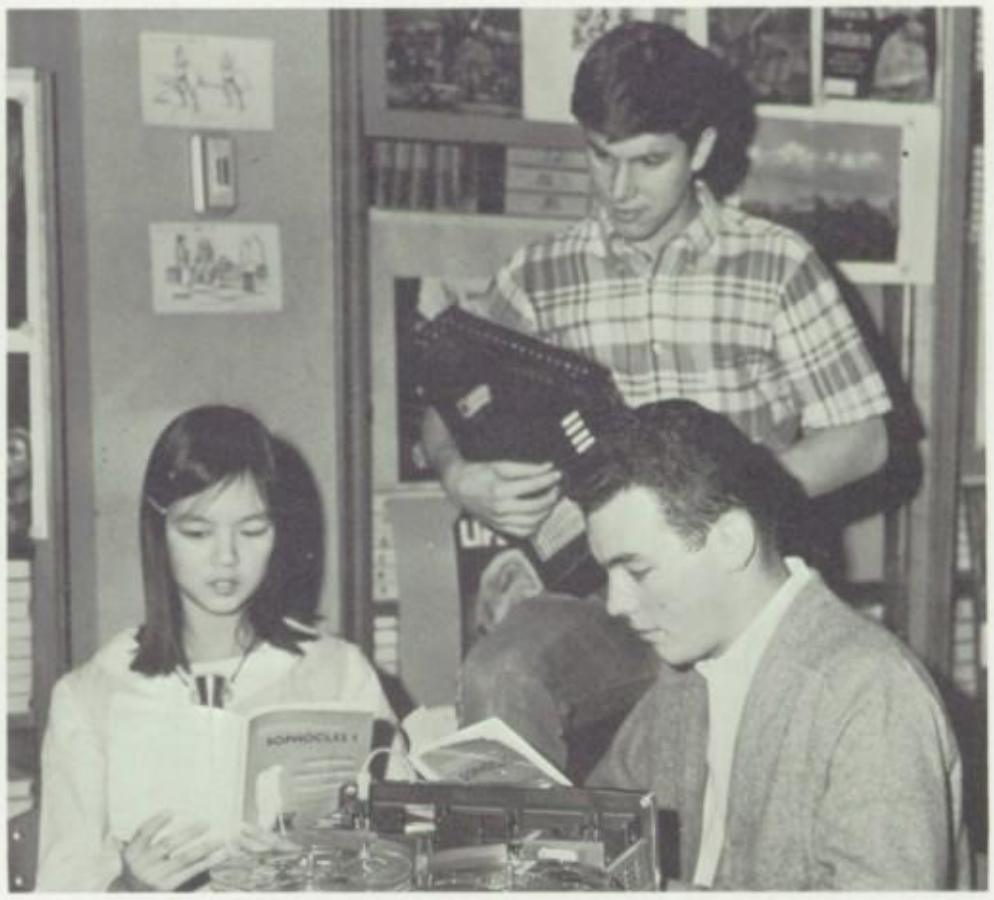
First year students accomplished a basic comprehension of structure and vocabulary to be followed in the second and third years by increased reading skills, intense conversational practice, and comprehensive cultural study of the peoples involved.

Individual instruction made possible by equipment in the language laboratory, along with tape recorders, films, and slides have proven successful techniques.

CONTROL BOARD operation helps all of Miss Henrietta Von Tungeln's Spanish students to use effectively the language laboratory.

REMINISCENT of ancient Rome, banquets are held each year by Latin students to commemorate Roman customs. Plebes Judy Edmondson and Katy Thornton serve patrician Paul Rahe.

BULLETIN BOARD displays are effective aids to learning. Leslie Basore illustrates Medieval Art for her Humanities class.



A RECORDING SESSION by juniors Linda Moy and Boyd Lyles follows the study of Oedipus the King. Rob Elder adds a Grecian touch with his autoharp.

Curriculum Diversified for Students in English

CONVINCING students that English is invaluable as a tool for learning and living was the major concern of the English department.

Added to the curriculum was a course in Humanities, designed to acquaint students with the great ideas passed down through the culture of the ages. One hundred juniors enrolled in the new course to examine the literature, painting, music, and philosophy of the great thinkers in history. Excursions to local museums and art centers and class discussions led by guest speakers were featured.

Because the skillful use of language is achieved only through study and practice, much attention was given to the mechanics of writing and speaking.

Thirty-eight juniors and seniors perfected their writing techniques in a Creative Writing class where students were encouraged to express themselves.

Ten students' writings, which included poems, essays, and descriptive paragraphs, were published in the Oklahoma Anthology, a publication sponsored by the Oklahoma Council of Teachers of English.

Two Northwest teachers, Miss Doris Taylor and Mrs. Vivian Lanier, served as consultants at area meetings for English teachers October 16. Purpose of the meetings, jointly sponsored by OEA-NEA, was the improvement of writing through evaluation of composition.

SHAKESPEARE comes alive for Miss Doris Taylor's senior English class as Carol Chatham, Susan Pojezney, and Patsy Miller portray the three witches of Macbeth.

"HISTORY REPORTS a-go-go . . ." Linda Tate and Virginia Styles give a special report on Fort Sumter modern style in American History class.

Broader Views Sought in Research, Reporting

BY BECOMING more aware of the fundamental principles of democracy and the steps the American people took in choosing this form of government, students of social studies were better able to interpret the political and economic struggle of the day.

Ninth graders took Oklahoma History, sophomores were required to take U.S. History, and juniors, World History. Other courses offered were World Problems, Government, Sociology, and Psychology.

Team and television classes challenged students and teachers alike, requiring expert listening.

JOURNALISTS enrolled in Journalism II and III for the purpose of publishing the school paper and yearbook, respectively. Two Journalism I classes received training in the fundamentals of newswriting.

One of the most important goals of the department was to supply press releases and strive to achieve good public relations for the school and community. Vivian Vahlberg served as Times correspondent this year.

Staffers actively participated in Oklahoma City and Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Associations.

BLEEDING pictures is one yearbook layout technique studied by staff members attending the workshop at OU last June; Diana Moses, Gary Mahagan, and Pam Smock.

USE of a "Living Textbook", the daily newspaper, is part of each day's lesson in Mrs. Charlotte Eaker's Journalism I class.

Vital Courses Build Through Competition

IMPROVING HEALTH, bettering sportsmanship and enjoying new sports experiences were headliners in the well planned programs of the boys and girls physical education department.

Intramurals and competitive sports stressed teamwork. Physical fitness tests were given in each class.

Depending largely on the weather, students pursued their particular interests in team sports.

SPEECH CLASSES included Beginning Speech, Drama, Debate and Stagecraft.

Speech and drama students participated in nine speech tournaments this year. In addition to tournament work, members of the Play Production class produced two all-school plays, "The Miracle Worker" and "More Than Meets the Eye." For the first time a children's play, "The Magic Horn", was presented.

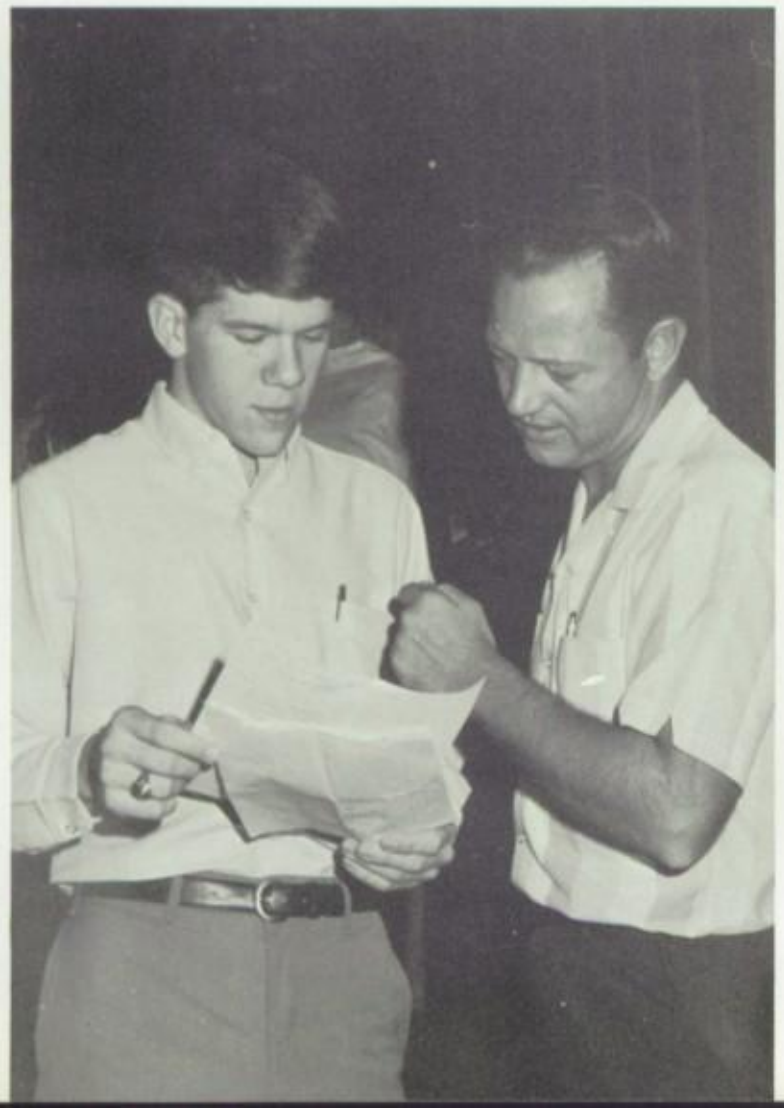
The stage crew, composed of stagecraft classes, contributed to school productions by constructing scenery, creating special lighting and sound effects.

IT'S not a Zulu, but Teresa Harrison running an obstacle course required in physical fitness tests which are given each semester.

CLASS instruction in physical education includes regular exercise periods.

CLIMAX of the first school play, "The Miracle Worker", was reached when Helen Keller (Susanne Martin) utters her first words for her governess, Annie Sullivan (Cheryl Burnett). This was Northwest's first production requiring a three-level stage setting.

CHECKING a cue off-stage for a production are Bill Patterson, stage manager, and stagecraft instructor Ted Nichols.



IN THE HABIT of collecting trophies were debaters Liz Herring and Karl Johnson, who won first place in cross-examination debate at the Houston, Texas, tourney.

THERE'S no way to beat the clock, Ronnie Michaelson decides as library aide Joan Dutton stamps his card with the library's new time clock, Northwest's latest concession to automation.

"YOU MEAN I can't check this gingerbread house out overnight?" Mrs. Alma Doughty explains to freshmen Brent Rogers and Mary Keesee that library aides made the house for Christmas decorations for the library.

Balanced Program Aid to 'Complete Living'

AMID surroundings that speak of architectural beauty and the cultural background of letters, Northwest students enjoyed the special privilege of a superior school library. Well-filled book shelves, hundreds of periodicals, stacks of reference materials, and the services of reader advisers were offered.

Automation in the form of a time clock which stamped complete data on cards was installed this year, eliminating the services of two library aides. The clock was a gift from the class of '66.

That one must "learn to drive to stay alive" seemed to be the consensus of Northwest students as crowded Drivers Education classes kept the two school cars in motion.

The music department was involved in school activities throughout the year. School musicians made a concerted effort to elevate the music appreciation level of Northwest students with carefully chosen material used in concerts and programs.

Distributive Education students spent half of each day on a job in an apprenticeship capacity; the other half was spent in the classroom.

AN A-PLUS grade was given Janie Rowton by Distributive Education director Jim Thrash when he checked her sales approach at a local store.

Myriad Sounds Mark Productive Shop Work

EMITTING buzzes, thumps, squeaks, crashes, and the almost soundless scratch of the drawing pen, Northwest's industrial arts rooms demonstrate that they are the "workshops of tomorrow."

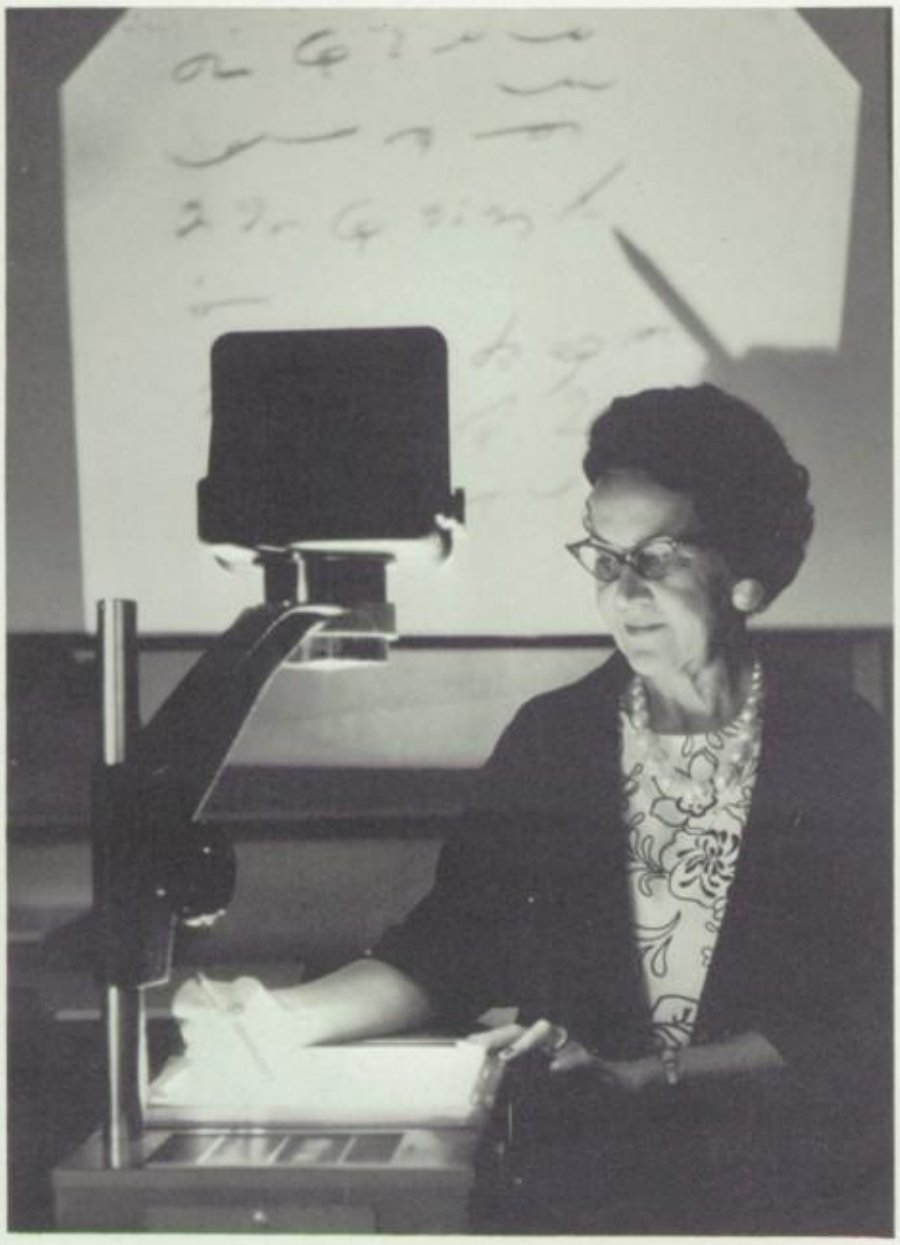
The curriculum boasted peak enrollment this year in a program of mechanical drawing, woodwork, printing, photography, auto mechanics, and architectural drawing.

Students enrolled in Vocational Education and Industrial Arts had many opportunities to get "on-the-job-training" and experiment with "tools of the trade."

Courses in these departments demanded imagination, whether it was creating, building or repairing.

Laboratory periods required the mastering of mechanical skills in addition to thoroughly covering carefully planned lessons in theory.

Northwest's industrial arts students took sweepstakes honors at an Industrial Arts Exhibit March 3 at Classen High School.



SPEEDING dictation rates and clarifying instruction were Mrs. Spann's purpose in using the overhead projector for a shorthand teaching aid.

"SO you goofed in the last line and have to start over," laughs Mrs. Findly, typing instructor. Bill Bendau tries to be patient and calm.

Competent Preparing Fosters Job Security

COMPREHENSIVE courses designed to prepare students for entry into the world of complex economics were offered by the business department.

Training for the 1100 students enrolled in the wide variety of courses was intended to improve their clerical skills and prepare them for the conditions, needs, and possibilities of opening in their chosen career fields.

Many launched their careers upon high school graduation; others entered college to become specialists in the business world.

Typing, a popular course among all students, was taken for vocational and personal use. Practical information was gained in such courses as bookkeeping, business English, business law, and business machines. Future secretaries mastered intricate drills to acquire speed and accuracy in shorthand.

New electronic laboratory equipment enabled teachers to provide more individual assistance.

Overhead projectors and tapes used in teaching both shorthand and typewriting were aids in promoting individual advancement.

SKILLS mastered in business courses prove useful for Leslie Cornett and Fran Russell as they assist with general routine in the main office.

ORGANIZATIONS

Democratic Procedures

A GOVERNMENT "of the students, by the students, and for the students" was the aim of Northwest's Student Council, composed of representatives from the 100 advisories.

A Student Council representative soon learned that his duties included more than reading announcements to his advisory twice a week. He was assigned to one of fourteen committees which planned mixers, assemblies, and intramural contests, conducted elections, made all the posters, worked in the student store and on Cupid Express and Echoes of the Knights.

One of the year's highlights was the decision at Christmas time to give $1,000 to the governor's "Little Angel" project to help South Vietnamese children who were war victims. Donations for the contribution were given from each advisory's Christmas party fund.

Five delegates were sent to the State SC convention in Duncan, and five delegates attended Intercity Council meetings monthly.

Council president John Myracle participated in National Leadership Conferences and Workshops in Lexington, Kentucky, and Estes Park, Colorado, in August. He was accompanied by Miss Owen, sponsor.

Broad Interest Areas Attract PTSA Members

"Participation Promotes Progress" was the theme of this year's programs which included panel discussions by experts in their fields on topics related to teenage problems in January and preparation for future careers and marriage in February.

For the fourth consecutive year, NWC's PTSA unit boasted the state's largest membership, 3,812. Climaxing the membership drive PTSA sponsored a mixer on the patio.

Teachers were guests of PTSA members at the annual teacher appreciation luncheon at O'Mealey's cafeteria August 28. Next, parents assisted with the freshman orientation program.

Two Open Houses, one for 9th and 10th grades, and one for 11th and 12th grades, were held.

An estimated 500 people were involved in the planning and executing of Career Day November 17, held in the fall for the first time. Some 102 consultants conducted two 40-minute sessions where they presented information on careers to interested students.

Other activities included fall and spring student aide clothing drives, assisting with the Book Fair and working closely with the administration to help promote safe driving among the students in the parking lots.

Exceptional Achievement Is Recognized

ONE of the highest honors obtained at Northwest was membership in the National Honor Society. In addition to scholarship, a member had to rate high in leadership, service, and loyalty to the school.

Thirty-five seniors were initiated in traditional ceremonies October 21. The second semester initiation included the induction of the third five per cent of the senior class and the first five per cent of the junior class.

Delegates atended the state convention at Midwest City where Vivian Vahlberg, secretary, participated in the program.

High Standards Set by Honor Math

ALL A's in three semesters of math, allowing only one semester of B, was required for Honor Math membership. Members had to be currently enrolled in a math course, as well.

Initiates pledged to continue their study of mathematics for a fourth year before they could be initiated.

Forty-five members were inducted into the club October 11 in the first semester initiation. Second semester initiation was held February 23; forty initiates were accepted.

Initiates wore pledge ribbons of two shades of blue, light and dark, which were the club's colors.

Talent Assessed — Society Taps Artists

APPLICANTS for membership in NATIONAL ART HONOR SOCIETY submitted eight pieces of art work in three media to be judged outside the school. Those accepted became members or associate members at the initiation December 1.

Members of the club decorated the school for Christmas and visited art galleries en masse.

Junior Diana Moses received a savings bond as first prize by designing the new seal adopted by the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association in April.

A STABILE OF METAL is part of Richard Varner's portfolio of six pieces of his art work which netted him a scholarship for coursework at the Oklahoma Science and Art Foundation.

Clubs Offer Opportunity to Explore Many Fields

REQUIREMENT for membership in HONOR LANGUAGE was five semesters of a B-plus average in one language.

Business covered at the called meetings included a project to donate funds to Junior Delegates to the World and American Field Service for foreign travel.

Club members also assisted Future Teachers by tutoring language students.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION affords students the opportunity to learn marketing, sales and services.

Classroom work and on-the-job training prepare students for the responsibilities of employment.

The Annual Employer-Employee dinner was held February 19 at the Elks Club where the D.E. Queen, Jean Wheelus, was crowned.

A ski lodge was the setting for the D.E. Talent Show presented December 3. The variety show featured talent acts between modeling scenes. D.E. queen candidates were introduced.

The State Conference was held March 8-9 at the Sheraton Hotel. Club members won honors in individual contests, such as public speaking, layouts, copy writing, show card writing, and store layout.

JOYEUX NOEL is the wish expressed by Les Chevalliers as president Alan Porter cuts the first piece of the Yule Log for Carol Evans before the bake sale.

Club Patterns Activities After French Traditions

In its second year, LES CHEVALLIERS du FRANCAIS added originality and spice to Northwest's club roster with a variety of activities.

In October club members held a cheese and crackers sale where they sold bits of imported meats and cheese.

The most unusual bake sale of the year was the French Yule Log sale at Christmas time. Containing about 32 layers of cake each, the cakes are a traditional part of France's holiday festivities.

The unique cakes made from a French recipe proved so popular that the students in the first lunch hour consumed all the cakes.

The French Knights began the second semester with a Mardi Gras celebration on February 22. Northwest's students provided the entertainment at the interschool celebration sponsored by Putnam City's French Club.

For the second year, French clubs in the two schools have joined for two social events during the year.

French and German Club students went to Tulsa in March to see the opera "Faust."

Classical Culture Stressed by JCL

TO ENCOURAGE interest in the culture and language of Ancient Greece and Rome, the Junior Classical League sponsored varied activities.

During August two delegates, Karen Williams and Lindsey Brock, attended the National JCL Convention in Los Angeles on the University of Southern California campus. They accompanied the Oklahoma delegation.

Junior Paul Rahe was elected parliamentarian at the State Convention at OU in the fall. He also served as the parliamentarian for Northwest's JCL Chapter.

Other activities included a picnic and initiation in the fall and the annual Roman banquet March 15.

German Customs Copied by Club

MEMBERSHIP in the German Club was open to all students enrolled in a German class or to those who speak the language. To promote understanding of the culture of the German peoples was the purpose of the club.

Members were given an opportunity to use the German language during discussion groups where only German was spoken. Films and pictures were shown at meetings by people who have traveled in Germany.

Honorary member of German Club, Mary Ann Sutter, was elected treasurer in the fall. She presented programs where she showed her slides from Switzerland and Germany.

Club members sponsored an International Club Christmas party consisting of German, Latin, Spanish and Les Chevaliers language clubs.

45 Spanish Students Granted Charter

A NEW Spanish Club, Hispanoamericano, was formed and the charter granted by the Student Council in October.

Consisting of forty-five charter members, the club met on second and fourth Fridays of each month.

The club's first social event was a Christmas fiesta complete with Las Posadas (journey to the manger) and the traditional pinata. Cuban students Elizabeth Conner and Margarita Hernandez aided the planning committee with their suggestions.

EATING the fruit from the pinata before the Spanish Club fiesta is forbidden. Elizabeth Conner and Peggy Palo reprimand Bill Patterson.

"A FIGURE in three dimensions . . . ? The geometry of a pup tent puzzles Ray Broadfoot and David Gibbs at the math club's campout.

"LOOK, Bill, if I fall, your grade falls too," quips Mrs. Yvonne Ball, Great Books' sponsor. Bill Patterson, Peggy Palo, and Mr. and Mrs. Ball attend the ice skating party.

Great World of Books, Analysis Opens

APPLICANTS for MATH ANALYSIS CLUB must have completed six semesters of mathematics with a B-plus average and submit a favorable recommendation from a teacher in the department.

Since most club members were planning a career in engineering or a profession demanding a strong background in math, calculus and analytics were thoroughly explored.

GREAT BOOKS CLUB was formed to stimulate active interest in the world's great literature.

The club calendar included one group activity each month. Students attended theatrical performances by local drama groups.

Club sponsor, Mrs. Yvonne Ball, was hostess for her annual Christmas open house for members and alumni. Some 200 people registered.

SCHOOL TECHNICIANS developed skill in specialties and increased their scientific knowledge in the Science, Radio, Electronics, and Aviation Clubs.

Broadcasting from its own station, with call letters W5DFH, the RADIO CLUB boasted the distinction of being the only club in school to have a room used by no other groups.

SCIENCE CLUB members formed special groups to accommodate interests in chemistry, physics, botany, zoology, and photography. Members worked together in preparation for the city science fair.

AERONAUTICS CLUB members studied various opportunities in aeronautics as they visited aircraft production plants, control towers, and the F.A.A. training center.

Composed of boys who were interested in laboratory experience and the theory of electronics, the ELECTRONICS CLUB presented its members with challenges in problems which would be faced in industry and research. Brotherhood, Service, Goodwill Spark Goal

"YOUTH OF THE KINGDOM" was originated to promote religious activities in school. Club members presented devotionals each morning over Central Sound System and for athletic events. Visits were made to shut-ins at Christmas time.

Every Wednesday morning at 8:00, guest speakers representing different faiths spoke to the group in a worship service in the Little Theater.

Each of NWC's 100 advisories was represented in the two monthly meetings of the HIGH SCHOOL RED CROSS. With proceeds from the two doughnut sales held during the school year, enrollment cards for all students were secured and a contribution was made to the International Red Cross Children's Fund.

Jence Thomas, last year's chapter treasurer, served as president of the Oklahoma County Red Cross Council.

This year 250 pairs of socks were obtained from the Christmas sock tree for distribution to needy children. Located in the library, this sock tree has become a traditional Red Cross project at Northwest.

Red Cross members furnished and decorated Christmas trees at the Veterans Administration and Children's Memorial Hospitals. A group of members visited homebound students, helping them keep in touch with school activities throughout the year.

EXTENDING a welcome to guest speakers, Father Lee Stephens, monk of the Order of the Holy Cross, and Father Hubert Conley, of St. Luther's Episcopal Church, is Terry Runnels, president of Youth of the Kingdom.

PROPAGANDA posters were collected by Vivian Vahlberg when she toured Russia last summer. Second semester president Ann Taylor enjoys Vivian's travelogue.

New Expansion Stirs Interest in Wide Area

JUNIOR DELEGATES to the WORLD, in its fourth year, enlarged its membership and extended its activities.

Twice each year the club sponsors a Book Fair where paperback books are sold from 35 cents to $3 for sets. Proceeds are spent for token scholarships for club members who travel abroad during the summer. Fifty dollars goes to members traveling in some type of organized program, and $10-$15 to members going with their families.

"People to People" was another long-range project of Junior Delegates. Tapes, pictures, yearbooks, and other items representative of life in Oklahoma were exchanged with foreign high schools.

Under the direction of the YMCA, the HI-Y cooperated in promoting service projects.

Five bills were submitted by NWC's delegates to the State Youth in Government legislature held in Oklahoma City in March.

The club basketball team participated in the City Hi-Y tournament, worked one week-end in helping get Camp Classen ready for opening, and assumed the project of painting the school fountain.

Preparation for Careers, Marriage Stressed

ENCOURAGING interest in a home economics career and preparing for family life were the purposes of TWENTIETH CENTURY HOMEMAKERS. Meetings featured demonstrations on gift wrapping, flower arrangements and interior decorating.

Homemakers joined the Red Cross in making kits to be sent to Viet Nam, and took care of PTSA members' children in a nursery during meetings.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA provided interested students with a view of what teaching is really like.

Club members served the faculty at the annual Christmas breakfast. They also attended a State Convention at Oklahoma State University and provided a tutoring service for fellow students.

New Spirit Flag Featured by Pep Council

COMPOSED of pep club presidents, their sponsors, and one other member from each club, the Pep Council coordinated the efforts of the pep clubs in establishing and maintaining school spirit and good sportsmanship.

Pep Council members also edited and compiled the athletic programs for home sports events. Money from program sales was divided among the four pep clubs to help pay for the spirit posters and banners.

A new project of the Pep Council this year was the Spirit Flag designed by the cheerleaders. Each week flags were awarded pep clubs showing the most spirit at the previous football or basketball game and were displayed in the club's show cases.

Music, Library Clubs Foster Culture

SYMPHONY HI-NOTES is a city-wide organization for teenage music lovers. Now in its second year at Northwest, Hi-Notes was formed to promote interest in symphonic music and live orchestra programs.

Members worked for the Symphony Subscription Drive in October and ushered at Symphony concerts.

Book reviews and tours of other libraries were main activities of the LIBRARY CLUB. Affiliated with district and state library groups, Northwest's chapter was represented in leadership by junior Gary Fair who was elected secretary of the Oklahoma City Library Club. Bob Lockwood served as vice president.

1,000 View Ceremony of School Journalists

IN the first demonstration of its kind ever given at the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association, Northwest's QUILL and SCROLL chapter initiated seven new members before more than 1,000 school journalists attending the state convention on OU's campus. It is believed that this was the largest audience of high school journalists ever to attend a Quill and Scroll initiation.

The nine-member team conducting the candlelight service was directed by Mr. Lester G. Benz, national executive secretary of the International Honor Society for top ranking journalists.

Mike Utter won first place in the City United Appeal essay contest. It was the third straight year a Quill and Scroll member had earned this honor.

The annual spring dinner meeting and initiation was held at Sussy's restaurant May 10.

To be eligible for membership, one must be an upperclassman who has maintained a 'B' average throughout high school plus a record of outstanding achievement in some phase of journalism. Northwest's chapter, chartered in 1955 when school opened, is named after Don Blanding, Oklahoma's poet laureate.

Speakers Sweep Honors in Nine Tournaments

EXCELLENCE in speech and drama was recognized by acceptance in the NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE and NATIONAL THESPIANS, honorary organizations. Announcements over the Central Sound System were provided by members of ANNOUNCERS CLUB.

National Forensic Leaguers journeyed to nine tournaments where they swept top honors. Competing with 1853 contestants in the Bellaire Tournament in Houston, Texas, Northwest won first in cross-examination debate. Sweepstakes ratings were compiled by 30 debate and drama students at the Alva and Durant tourneys.

Unprecedented honors were accorded Knights in the three preliminary Student Congresses when outstanding speaker awards, nominations to nationals, and top Senate and House posts were given to them.

To qualify for membership in the National Thespians, students participated in some capacity in the theatre, receiving ten points for working with the stage crew, serving as ticket seller, or performing an acting role.

Before being accepted into the Announcers Club, applicants auditioned before a club committee at the beginning of each semester where they were judged on the basis of personality, diction, and voice control.

Publications Provide Image of Northwest

WITH a student body of over 3,000, THE SHIELD formed a vital link in communicating school activities and projects to the entire community.

News articles, features, editorials, sports stories, and the popular "Joust About" column provided students with an interesting, entertaining and informative guide to life at Northwest Classen.

Students were again surprised with a special edition on the first day of school with regular issues distributed on alternate Tuesdays.

Senior Mike Utter was named top writer in Oklahoma City's United Appeal teen editorial writing contest. This is the third straight year a Shield contestant has received first place in the competition.

ROUND TABLE staff members aimed constantly at repeating the "All American" rating awarded the '65 edition by the National Scholastic Press Association. Only two per cent of the books in the nation achieve this title. "With Highest Honors" has been accorded both publications in state competition the past three years.

Recorded in the yearbook were all academic and extra-curricular events. To seniors, it contained a permanent record of all the treasured memories accumulated during their final year at NWC.

"JUST because we both forgot to write 'Joust About'," comments Vivian Vahlberg, "doesn't mean you have to tear up everyone's stories." Vivian and Peggy Palo were co-editors of THE SHIELD.

"MAYBE WE'RE just the only school with cheerleaders," muses Marsha Boggs, student life editor, as she and Diana Moses, yearbook editor, search through exchange annuals for picture ideas.

'Official Hostess' Label Goes to Courtesy Club

FULFILLING their purpose of service to the school, Courtesy Club members served as hostesses for Freshman Orientation, PTSA Open Houses, Career Day, and OEA meetings. Girls also provided and served refreshments at all faculty meetings.

Uniting again with Key Club, Courtesy Club girls worked on community projects and combined for social events. The two clubs joined together to help with the United Appeal Drive, Career Day, and PTSA Open Houses. October 23, the two clubs entertained guests at a picnic at Lincoln Park. Club girls modeled for their mothers and friends at the annual Mother and Daughter Tea. The annual Courtesy Club dance was held in January with Key Club boys as special guests.

On October 22, the club sponsored a bake sale and contributed the profits to the Red Cross. At Christmas time, club members presented Christmas presents to the Lahoma Rest Home. The new Emerson project, designed to enlist the help of high school students in promoting activities for underprivileged children, was enthusiastically supported by Courtesy Club members.

Supervising club activities were sponsors Mrs. Mollie Mae Davidson, Mrs. Janie Calhoun, Mrs. Lois Clark, Mrs. Mary Blevins, and Mrs. Marjorie Kozak.

Performance Peaks Win Accolades for Singers

KNIGHTLAND'S "Sound of Music" not only filtered through the school, but streamed out over the community and sometimes over the air waves via the magic of radio and television.

After winning all superior ratings in the state contest, Cryslurs received the first sweepstakes plaque ever given in state competition. The honor chorus was the only one of 80 in the state to win superior ratings in all categories.

For the seventh consecutive year, Cryslurs swept top honors at the Edmond Music Festival.

"Music, Spread Thy Voice Around" was a popular number with the Girls' chorus, and its words established an appropriate theme for all groups and ensembles. Many types of music were introduced in concerts, and selections from such well-loved musicals as "Sound of Music" and "My Fair Lady," balanced the traditional classics, ballads, folk songs, and spirituals.

Using recording machines in rehearsals, singers were able to criticize their own efforts, and Director John Platt could study strengths and weaknesses in determining the needs of his choirs.

The fall and spring concerts, and spring festival competition required concentrated efforts in March practice sessions. Extra rehearsals brought all groups to performance peaks.

GIRLS TRIO members, Trina Harry, Dee Ann Lee, and Sandy Black spend hours scanning special material for their next performance.

'Sounds of Music' Lift Knights to New Level

STEPPING out to lead the marching band is Northwest's first sophomore drum major, Tom Birkett.

Musicians Blend Efforts for Top Performances

BAND AND ORCHESTRA members were dedicated musicians who arrived at school at 7:30 a.m. to practice for performances in concerts, contests, and game programs.

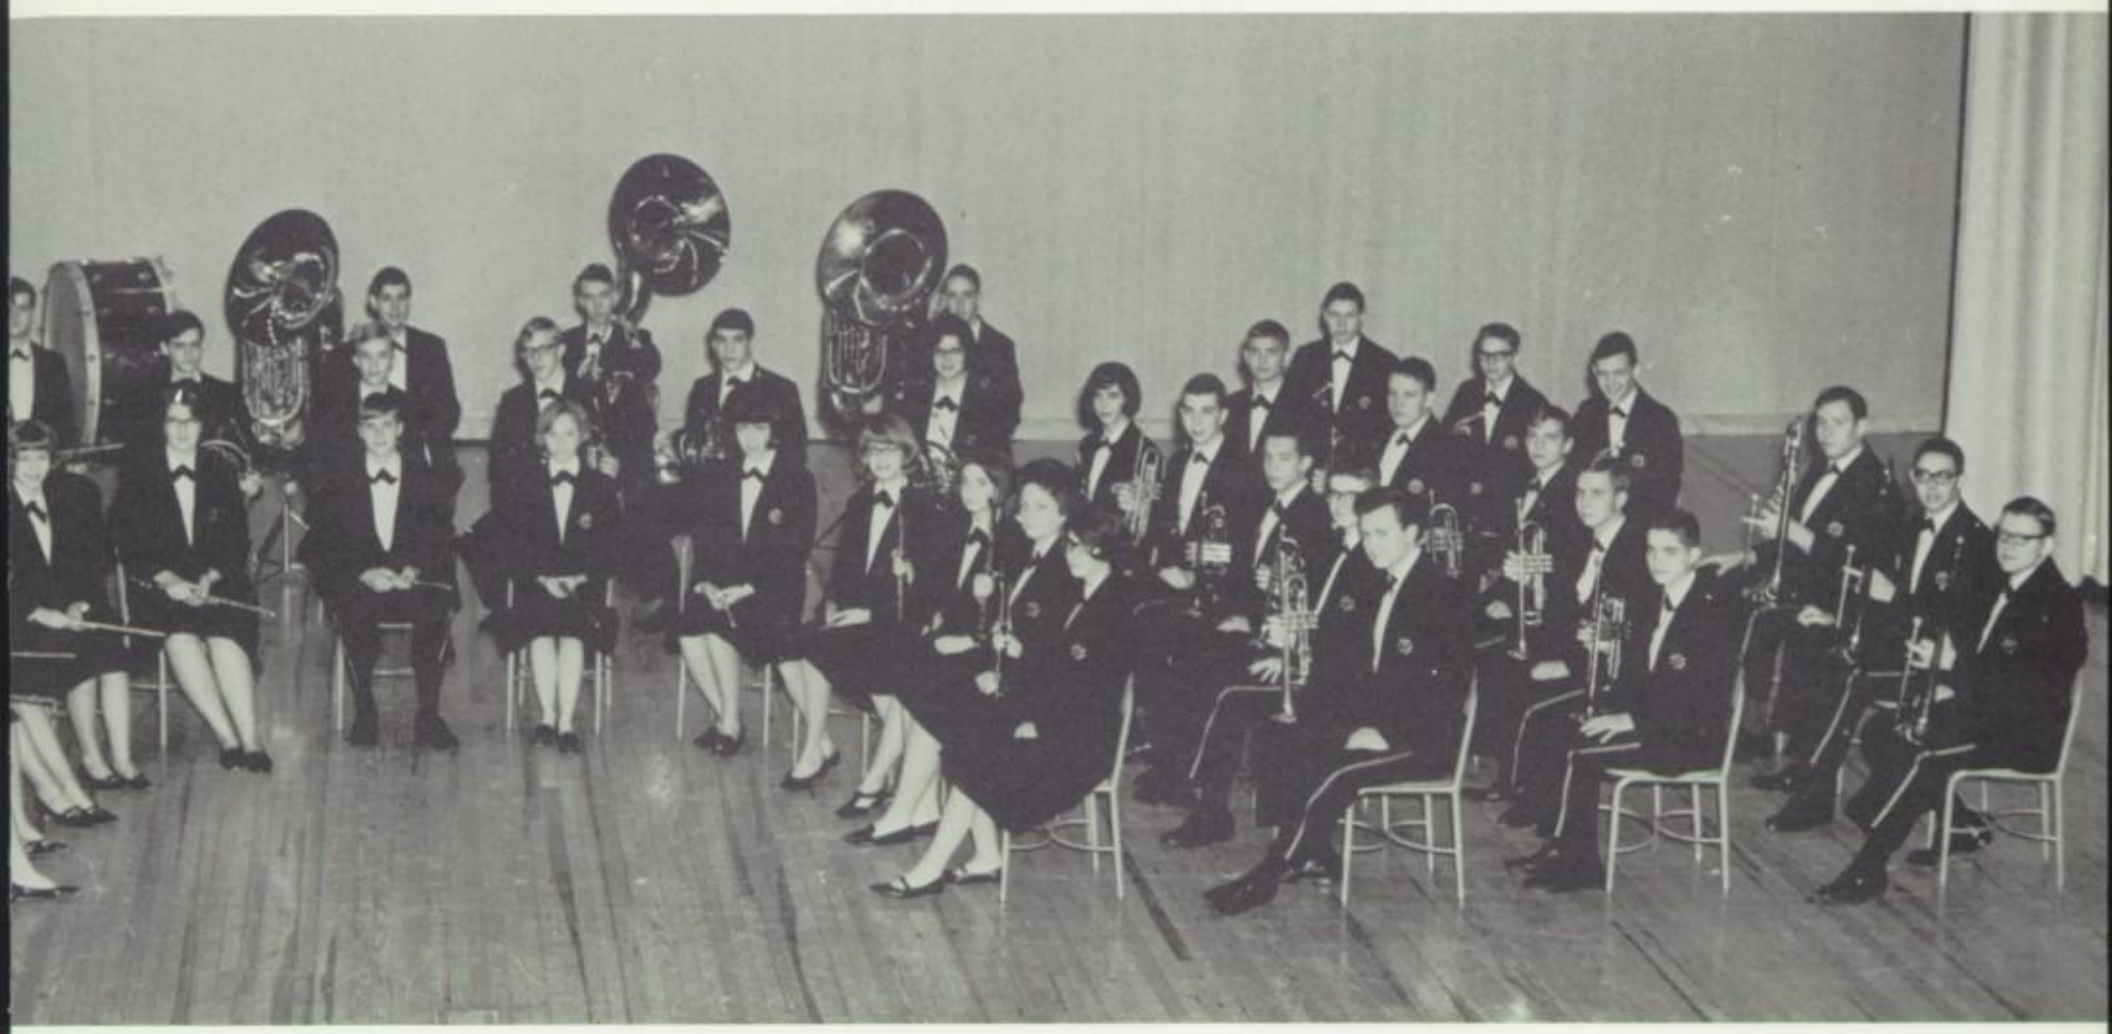
Sophomore Tom Birkett served for his first year as drum major of the 100-member marching band. Twenty bandsmen formed a pep band to add spirit to home basketball games.

Eleven instrumentalists from Northwest won berths in the All-State Band and Orchestra at the University of Oklahoma, February 13.

Jane Boyd, cellist, Barbara Smith, violinist, and Dick Leuszler, percussionist rated first chair in the meet. Qualifying violinists in orchestra were Ken Beck, Sherri Collier, John Hatchett, and Karen Jones. Rating high as cellists were Jane Boyd and Dorothy Mapes. Alice Lee, flutist, and Bill Cooter, bassoonist, Parker Smith, oboist, and Howard Whitehead, cornetist, shared in the state band program.

Alice Lee was one of three musicians chosen from the Oklahoma City area to play with the Oklahoma City Symphony for the two Young People's concerts.

Five candidates: Carol Green, Roberta Johnson, Peggy Phipps, Beverly May, and Beverly Wilkinson, were nominated by the instrumental music classes for Queen of Hearts, and Carol was crowned Queen at the annual Valentines' Sweetheart Ball at Val Gene's.



DISPLAYING the form which won them first place at Kilgore, Texas for the sixth straight year are majorettes Marsha Lane, Katy Sheehan, Marsha Kosted, Beverly Wilkinson, Lee Ann Welch, head majorette, and Janie Jacobson.

In Knighthood lore, there is mention of young swans, or Cygnets, who graced castle moats, adding beauty and serenity to the scene. This is the goal to which Northwest Classen Cygnet members aspire.

The new Spirit Flag, purchased by the Pep Council to stimulate and recognize outstanding spirit displayed at games, was awarded the Cygnets twice during football season.

Service projects and civic drives received Cygnet support. New pledges were entertained at an ice cream social in the school patio the first school week.

November 13 Cygnets entertained the football team with their annual dinner-dance in Val Gene's banquet hall in Shepherd Mall. The program featured entertainment titled "Knights in Fantasyland". Cartoon characters presented spoofs of individual football players and coaches. Sponsors, coaches, administrators, their wives and husbands, were special guests.

New Sweaters Sported by Energetic Falcons

FALCONS, hunting birds of Medieval times, were remarkable for their ability to soar high and always capture game. Falcon pep club members have always tried to live up to the high standards traditional in their heritage.

New gold sweaters with purple emblems were sported by Falcons, who wore them on game days, when selling athletic programs at games, ushering at Open House, and traveling to Shawnee on the bus trip.

Highlights of the year's social activities was the Christmas dance at Quail Creek December 22 when the club queen was crowned. She was presented a coat featuring the club insignia, a necklace, and a crown. Each of the princesses received a necklace with their name on the back.

"CORONET" was chosen for a pep club name in 1955 when the school opened because of its association with sovereignty in days of Knighthood. Coronets were small crowns worn to signify a mark of rank.

The bus trip to Shawnee in the fall and the banquet for basketball players in the spring were the year's highlights. Basketball boys are annually feted by Coronets at a banquet where coaches award them letters.

To raise funds for the banquet Coronets held bake sales and ushered at the Ice Capades, baseball games, and rodeo. A special treat was the ushering assignment for the Broadway musical, "Hello Dolly."

Coronets combined with Cygnets for a special halftime show at Homecoming. Like the Cygnets, they won the new Spirit Flag twice for an outstanding display of spirit.

Club sponsors were Miss Marjorie Smith, Mrs. Jean Krows, Mrs. Linda Moore, Miss Doris Taylor, Mrs. Nellie Ecton (head sponsor).

Lancers Launch Year With Spirit Projects

In Knights lore, Lancers were recognized defenders, always ready to aid a Knight. Since Northwest's opening eleven years ago, Lancers have contributed their support to all Knightland activities.

Lancers launched the school year with "duc" season, which ended in the annual initiation party. Twenty-two pledges were inducted this year to make a total of fifty-seven members.

Spirit projects included making posters for each game, reserving a bus for the Shawnee bus trip, decorating cars for the parade to Capitol Hill for the Grant game, selling athletic programs, and ushering at Open House.

According to Lancer traditions, their queen was crowned at the annual Christmas formal December. 11 in the Plaza Towers' crescent room.

Court Jesters Foster Improved Cheerleading

COURT JESTERS was organized by the cheerleaders to promote better cooperation between pep clubs and cheerleaders. Through extended practice, girls gained a thorough understanding of the school yells.

Members interested in becoming cheerleaders were schooled in techniques of crowd control, jumps, and personal grace. Three girls were chosen by Court Jesters every two months to lead cheers at B and C squad games.

Each year the group presents a Spirit Award to the student who did the most during the year to promote sportsmanship and uphold the school spirit.

Club membership reached an all-time high of 143. The Court Jesters sponsored several fund-raising projects in order to earn enough money to buy new uniforms and equipment for future cheerleaders. Megaphones and spirit ribbons were sold, and an arrangement was made with a local drive-in restaurant to share part of the proceeds of "Northwest Day."

STUDENT LIFE

Knights interest themselves in the arts of expression, developing together to combine the best of social living with the joys of human experience.

Year Reviewed at NW, Classed 'Best of All'

WHAT and Who and When and Where and Why are the hypothetical questions that were answered in many ways by the members of Northwest Classen's student body as they went about their daily routine.

Some remembered best Mr. Malone and his co-workers, while others marked for permanence student friendships. The Prom, the plays, grade cards, pep rallies, mixers, games, and club meetings were important according to individual preferences. The cafeteria, halls, gym, patio, stadium, auditorium, and classrooms were places where never-to-be-forgotten events occurred.

Realizing that an impressive beginning sets the stage for a successful school year, Knights initiated planning sessions during the summer months.

Student Council orientation committees met, Shield staff reporters gathered news for a traditional first-day paper, and Knights and Ladies welcomed the two new AFS students with friendly get-togethers.

"Howdy" was the magic word at the first mixer of the year held annually to welcome freshmen and other students back to school.

ROCK FORMATIONS are used by enterprising cheerleaders preparing new routines.

LEAVING for Rotary Club luncheon are Junior Rotarians Dan Blaschke, John Bado, David Gibbs, John Myracle, Karl Johnson, and Joe Pryor.

THE OATH OF OFFICE was given to John Myracle in the welcome assembly by 1964-65 Student Council President Dave Elder.

GETTING ACQUAINTED at the annual "Howdy Mixer" are freshmen Kim Williams, Kelly Clark, with Gayla Junk, Liz Johnson, and Mary Spencer.

LUCKY CADDIES Mike Fauks and Jack Bergman assisted Arnold Palmer in the Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament September 2-5 when more than twenty NWC golfers caddied at Quail Creek for professional golf's top performers.

Knightland Soon Settles Into Familiar Pattern

FANS were at a premium in sweltering classrooms as students wore summer clothes through September and October.

Everyone looked forward to the big prep preview and the first look at our football team. Fees, activity tickets, and pep club dues depleted our allowances, and we had to curtail our social life as studies quickly demanded more and more attention.

Word came that fifteen seniors from Northwest Classen had qualified as National Merit Scholarship Foundation semi-finalists. This represented the greatest number in school history, five more than the previous record of ten semi-finalists who were also declared finalists last year. Last year senior Bob Greer made the state's highest score; Mark Lyon's score of 150 was six points below this year's state high of 156.

Senior girls won the first paper drive and Student Council members warmed up rapidly with heated discussions on parking problems and the point system.

By the end of September Knightland had settled into its familiar pattern of life—full of wonderful, exciting experiences for the freshmen and a bit of nostalgic contemplation by upperclassmen.

ON CLOUD NINE is All-Sports's Queen candidate Marsha Boggs as she and other candidates are presented during halftime at the Homecoming game.

"GO KNIGHTS!" Senior girls strain every muscle while cheering the football team in the last game of the season.

KEY ROLES in the Mummers Theatre production, "The Little Foxes," are played by senior Carol Reed and Susan Brown, veteran Mummers actresses, in one of the year's first productions.

"THIS SHOE just won't fit," complains Otto Merz while Sandy Joyce, Susan Holt, John Thompson, and Cindy Green sort out shoes at the annual Toys for Tots mixer in the gym at Christmas time.

"HERE'S your name on the program," Principal J. Frank Malone points out to Terry O'Toole, injured football player, as cheerleaders keep him company on the sidelines.

"EXCUSE ME, Sir." Harriet Hammond timidly interrupts Principal Dan Simon in his busy day as head man at Northwest when students took over official duties during Citizenship Week, an annual event in city, state, and school circles.

"AHA, that serves you right!" Linda Bishop cries as Johnny Marsh and Bobby Dempsey attempt to remove the new type parking violation sticker they received for illegal parking in the school parking lot.

"WHAT do you have to cure a working girl's headache?" Custodian Gwen Davis wails to nurse Steve King.

FAVORITE social events are the mixers Student Council sponsors throughout the year.

CAREER DAY speaker Monte Hoke, nationally known artist, discusses professional art with students Richard Varner and Teresa Cornish.

Autumn Calendar Sets Pace for Brisk Activity

AUTUMN'S calendar was crowded with projects which fused students into a united group. Student Council worked with the PTSA to organize the two Open Houses and to push the membership drive over the top. Students celebrated the successful drive when they were feted by parents with a patio mixer.

Teaching and social work are the most popular future professions of NWC students, judging by "Career Day" enrollment. Some 85 consultants spoke to groups in two forty-minute sessions November 19.

Pep rallies and a bonfire in the pit built last year sparked school spirit.

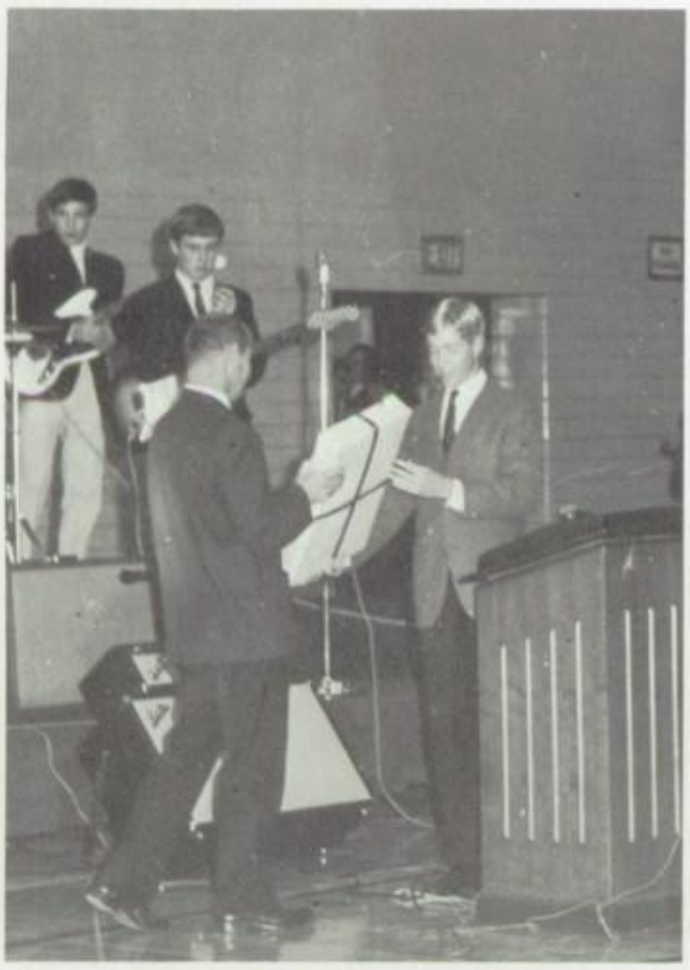
Nine chartered buses were required for pep clubs and fans for the trip to the Shawnee football game.

Students took over the reigns of State, County, City, and School government during Youth Citizenship Week November 15-19. Karl Johnson served as the state's governor-for-a-day.

Mid-semester exams grew near and upperclassmen studied test schedules and directions as they dreaded taking ACT and SCAT tests. College loomed big on the horizon and everyone realized long range planning was a "must".

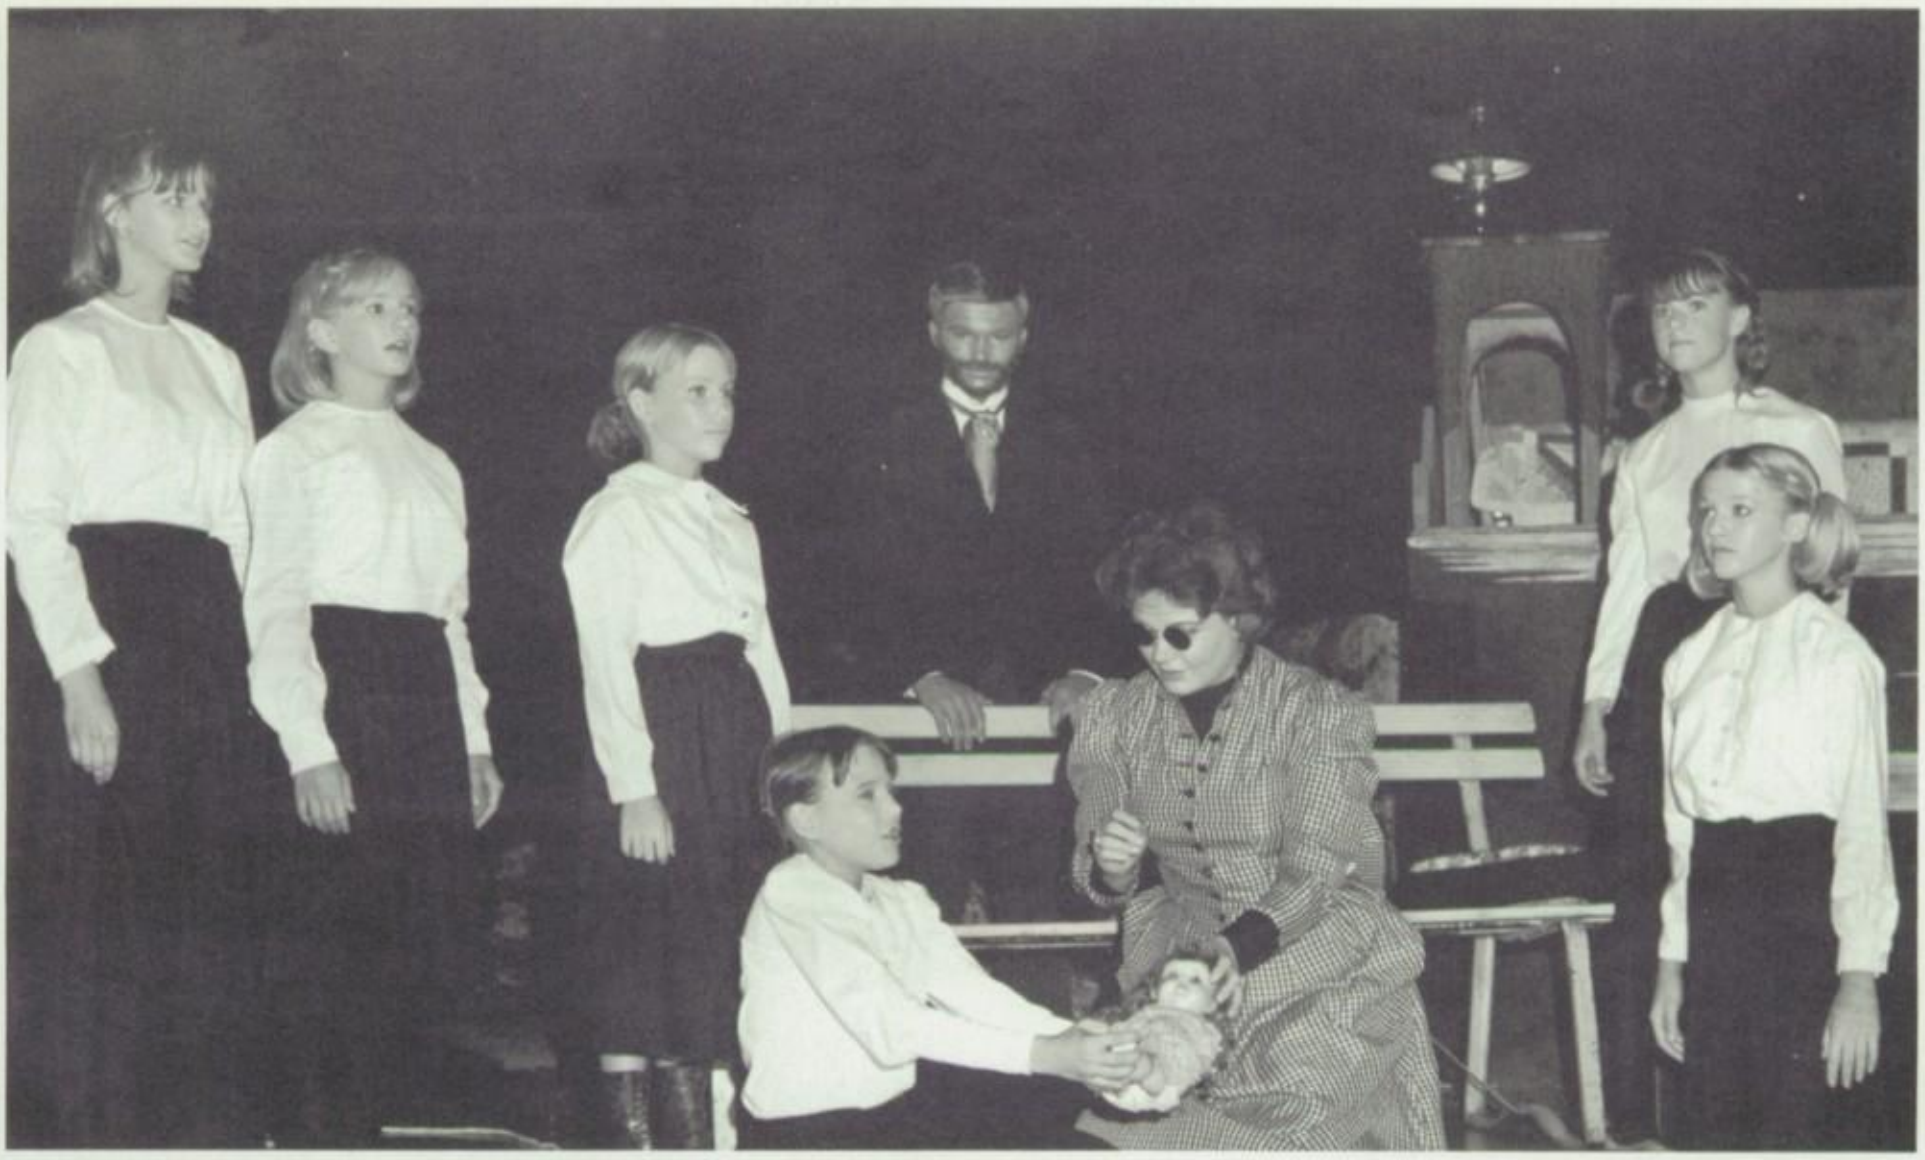
"THIS GUY has the big head!" Courtesy club girls make decorations for their masquerade ball.

QUEEN CANDIDATE Miss Jean Wheelus, escorted by Steve Steele, was presented in the D.E. Style Show.



A FINAL "thank you" from the student body was expressed to football Coach Harold Merideth by John Myracle following Mr. Merideth's resignation.

GREETED by John Smelser and AFS'er Lizzie Staden, humanities class members, Mrs. Waldo Stevens was one of many guest speakers to appear in the newly formed class.



"IT'S a present . . . for Helen." Sightless schoolmates bid instructor Annie Sullivan farewell as she prepares to leave for the Keller plantation. (Left to right) Jacki White, Terry Manning, Robin Strom, Kathy Jenks, Monty Lewis, Cheryl Burnett, Robyn Birdwell, and Nancy Fisher play supporting roles in "The Miracle Worker," first of the year's productions by Mrs. Betty Allred's high school drama class.

Flurry of Events Mark November as 'Special'

THE FLURRY of special events made November a festive month.

Everyone talked about the unique staging of the first play "The Miracle Worker", famous story of Helen Keller. Stage crews designed a three-level set with moving platforms that rolled to the wings or pivoted on the stage.

Homecoming, always a highlight for Knights as well as alumni, was climaxed by a dance at the Sportsman's Club. Decorations at the game included a colorful castle constructed by Student Council members which was erected behind the goal posts.

Crowning of the All-Sports queen was followed by the Cygnet banquet at the Shepherd Mall ballroom. Players received letters following surprise entertainment by pep clubbers.

When new problems arose, such as the forfeiture of games because of an illegal player, Knights faced them squarely and proved that the school motto, "You—Knighted by Pride and Loyalty" does not contain idle words.

"LOOK OUT; you're falling." Jimmie Wright tries to aid Billy Allen in the latest craze to hit the school and city—ice skating in the new Fairgrounds arena.

THE FIRST big snowfall in several years found gleeful Knights swarming like children in the patio to play and build snowmen.

HIGHLIGHTS of their summer tour to 10 European countries were presented in an assembly by Johnny Garrett, Vivian Vahlberg, and Bill Patterson.

"STRAWBERRY, grape, or cherry," ponders senior Doug Chew. Mrs. Ball rewards her English classes with tootsie rolls when they attend games.

Seniors Grab Spotlight With National Honors

SENIORS again grabbed the spotlight when a slate of ten candidates was nominated for Round Table royalty.

Three senior English students, Bill Cooter, Karl Johnson, and Connie Hill, received Achievement Awards in the National Council of Teachers of English writing contest. They were three of six state winners in a group of 837 national winners picked from 8,500 finalists in 50 states.

Thanksgiving vacation found twelve school journalists in Chicago attending sessions of the National Scholastic Press Association convention.

For the sixth consecutive year the Cryslurs presented a concert in the mall at Penn Square at Thanksgiving to mark the beginning of the Christmas season at the shopping center.

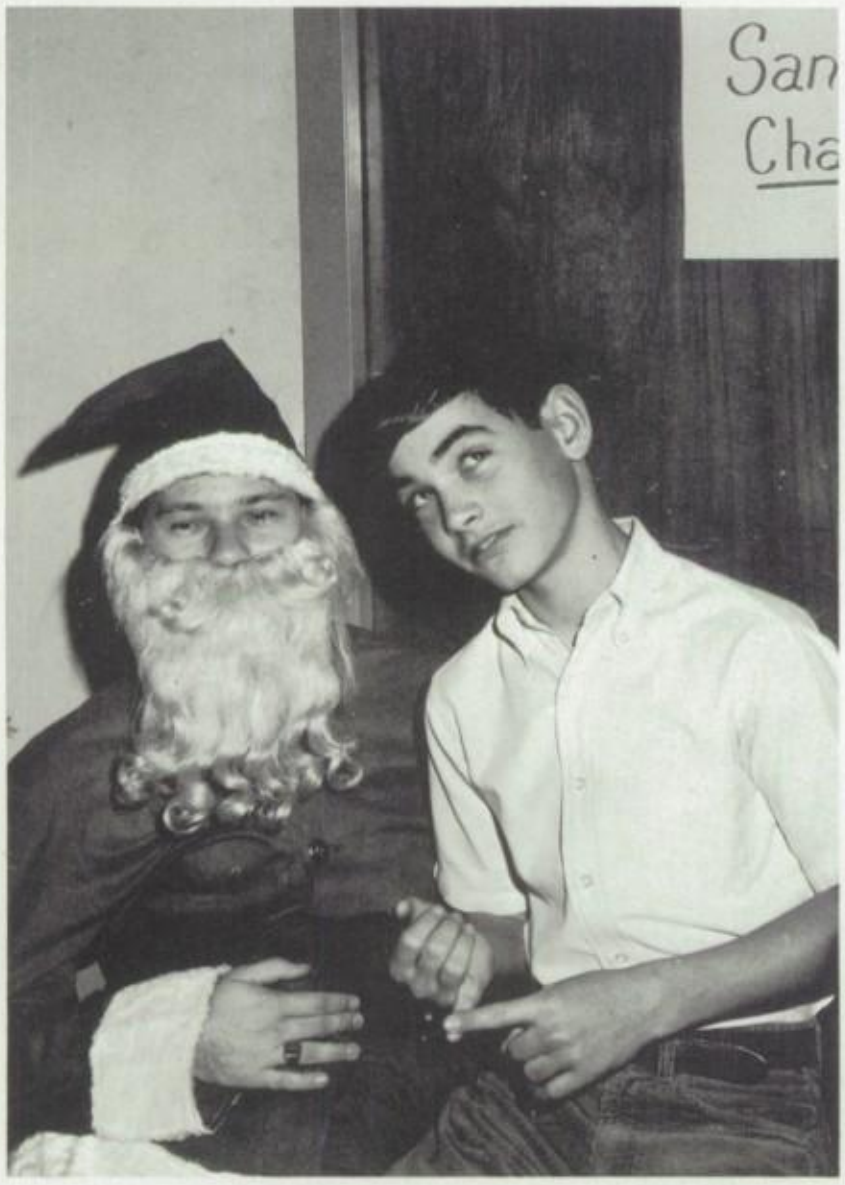
Mr. John Paden, head of the science department, was cited in a national magazine as one of nine outstanding biology teachers in the nation.

"THAT was my favorite toy." Senior girls reluctantly part with their treasures at the Toys for Tots mixer.

LITTLE BLACK SAMBO'S record has never been beaten yet; but many people try at Cryslurs' pancake supper.

AT her first advisory party, Swiss exchange student Marianne Sutter enjoys pizza, always a favorite, along with fried chicken, cokes and French fries, at school parties.

NOTABLES share the Christmas spirit when Governor Bellmon greets John Myracle and receives a $1,000 check from NWC's student body for the "Little Angel" project to aid Vietnamese children.



"A RED WAGON and..." Kim Williams gives his list of Christmas wishes to Santa, a new holiday feature in the Student Store.

CONTRIBUTIONS to the annual Red Cross Christmas tree in the library were made by Bob Johnson and Linda Barron. Over 600 pairs of socks were given.

"IT LOOKS almost like mine," Student teacher Jerri Harris tries on Candy Sneed's Lancer Queen coat and reminisces about the days when she possessed the same title.

True Christmas Spirit Personified by Knights

ALL of Knightland resembled a winter wonderland as the art department "outdid themselves" in decorating the building as never before at Christmas time.

A proud student body made the Christmas season more meaningful when $1,000 was contributed to the Governor's "Little Angel" project. Donations were given from each advisory's party fund.

Club members busied themselves with service projects, the Cryslurs carolled at Shepherd Mall and in local hospitals, and the faculty, too, caught the holiday spirit as they arrived at school December 21 for a 7 a.m. breakfast. Each advisory's goal was ten pairs of socks for the Red Cross sock tree in the library.

The annual Toys for Tots mixer netted a record number of toys for the Marines who distributed toys to needy children.

The scene was set in a Swiss lodge when the Distributive Education department provided a spectacular variety show and presented their queen finalists.

February Features Romantic Traditions

ROMANTIC TRADITIONS were perpetuated when Valentine messages and candy were exchanged to net a record breaking $1,002.64 for American Field Service.

The anxiously awaited announcements of Knight and Lady of Friendship nominees began the final royalty election.

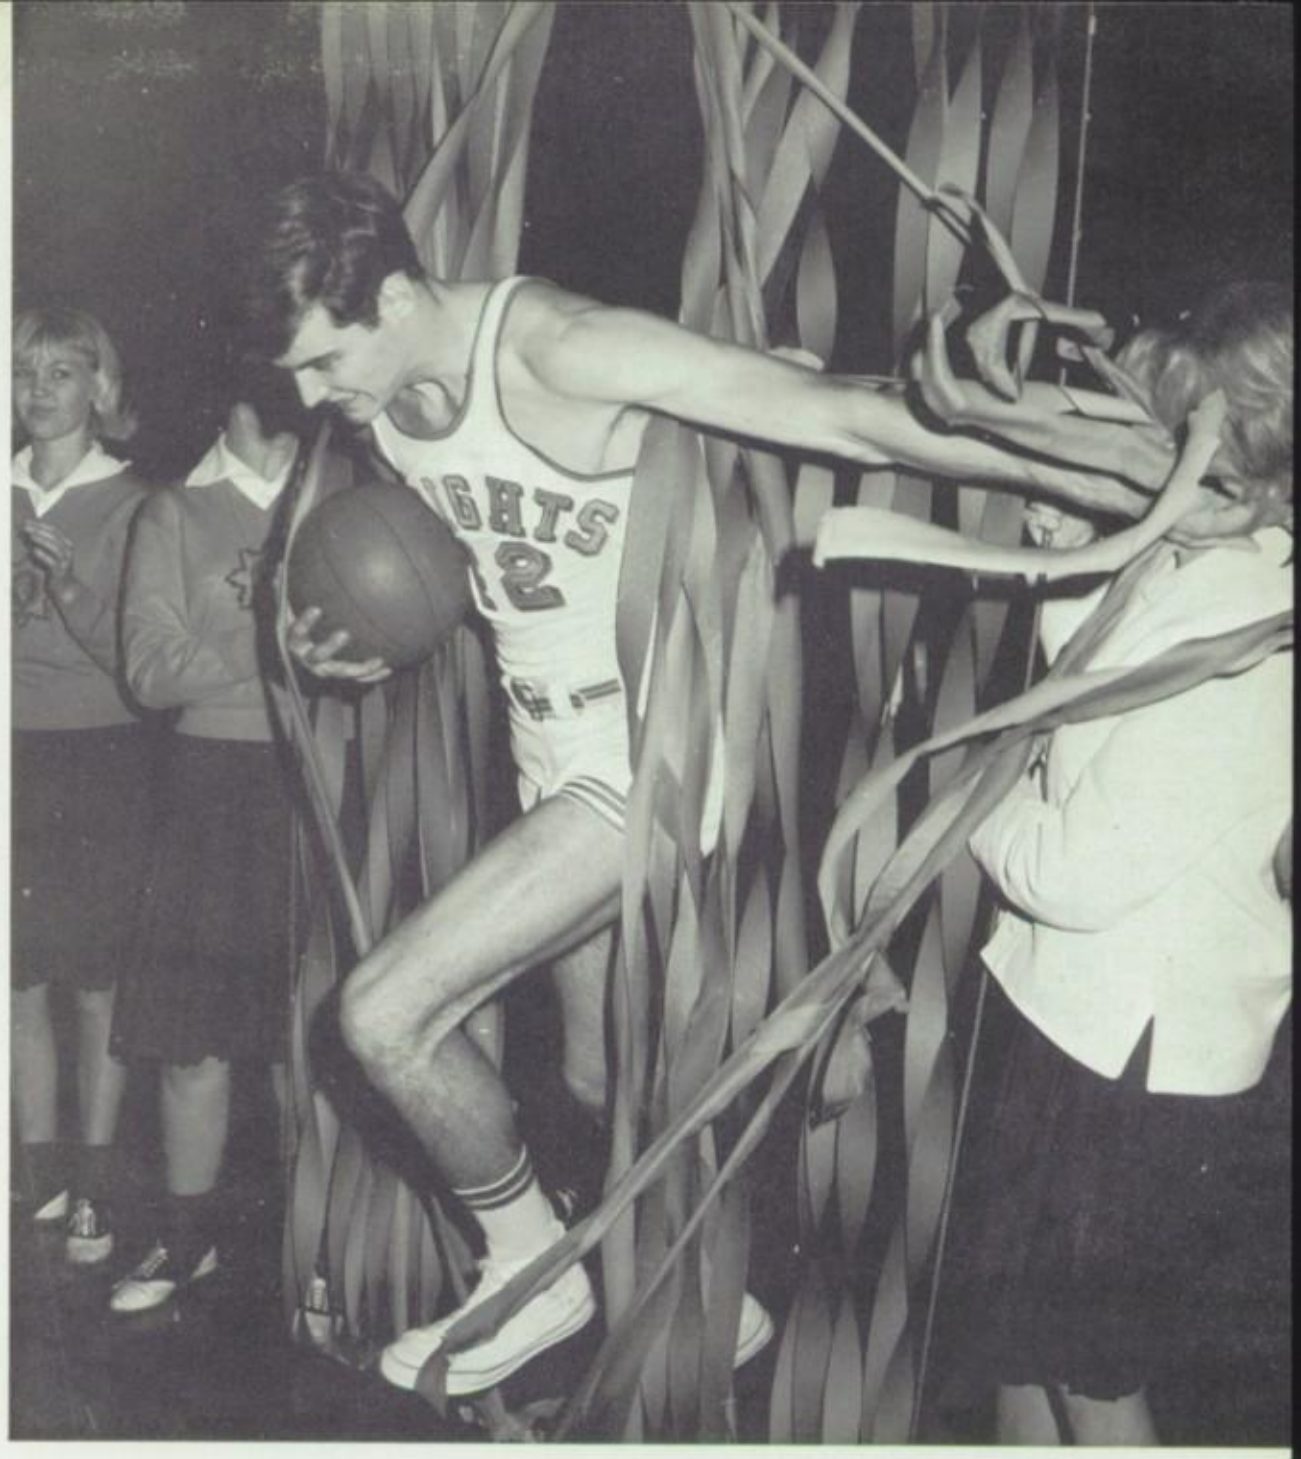
School journalists attended the Inkslinger's Ball at Grant High School and saw their candidate, Roberta Johnson, crowned Oklahoma City's Princess of Print.

Never before had people clamored for tickets as they did when the original Broadway cast of "Hello Dolly" came to the Municipal Auditorium. The Times chose Northwest's correspondent, Vivian Vahlberg, to interview Carol Channing, star of the show.

Speakers and Cryslurs continued their sweep of forensic and music contests, while journalists journeyed to New York to appear on the Columbia Scholastic Press Association convention program.

The first school magazine in school history, "Questings," was published by the English department in the spring.

A BIG Broadway show, "Hello Dolly," created a lot of excitement in Oklahoma City in January. Vivian Vahlberg and Joelene Barker interview the star of the production for the City Times.



BREAKING through the hoops as he leads the cagers onto the floor is Charlie Ogden.

PROUDLY exhibiting the Spirit Flag won by seniors Spirit Week is Fred Gagliardi, class president.

"OH, I can't believe it!" Roberta Johnson exclaims as the announcement is made at the Inkslinger's Ball at Grant High School that she is Oklahoma City Princess of Print.

Season Record Marred by 4-Game Forfeiture

SPORTING the best seasonal record since 1963, the grid squad finished the season with a 6-4 won-loss slate. However, due to an infraction of rules involving a player affiliated with a secret fraternity, the Knights were forced to forfeit their first four games.

Hightlight of the season came when the team downed arch rival Midwest City 15-6 and was rated fifth in the state. Coach Harold Merideth was selected by the Oklahoma Journal as its Coach of the Week following the victory.

PULLED DOWN from behind by U.S. Grant's Gary Moore is John Bado, after a short gain in the season's finale. Ready to help his teammate in the General's losing effort is guard Dean Farris. Knights won the game 38-14.

ABOUT to be swamped by Bill Long and Mike Keefer in the Grant skirmish is halfback Stan Sparks. Roger Mims lends a helpful block.

Strong Defense Limits

LED by halfback Dwayne Freeze who scored two touchdowns and passed for another, Del City's Eagles defeated the Knights in the regular season's opener, 18-8.

Though plagued by rain which drenched players and spectators alike, the gridders shocked 4th state-ranked Midwest City 15-6 the following week. Sub Gary Clinton and Rusty Loeffler netted the decisive touchdown points to rankle Coach Jim Darnell's Bombers for the first time in six years.

Clinton, behind strong blocking from John Green and John Johnson, stormed eight yards through the middle for first blood. A Simon run after the touchdown made it 8-0 with 5:58 before halftime. A key interception by Earl Cody on the next series of plays set the stage for Loeffler's gallop to paydirt, with Keith Blair's extra point kick adding the final touches.

For the second time in six years Harding was thwarted by their hosts 15-0. Northwest bulled to 325 yards on the ground for a conquest of Capitol Hill as the offensive machine was led by Dan Blaschke, who carried 15 times for 113 yards.

DESPITE a menacing protest from Harding defender David Ryan, end Bob Griggs is set to receive the pass near the Eagle goal line.

WORKING OUT a charley horse in Keith Blair's leg on the sidelines are Dr. John Blaschke, Booster Club member, and Mike Ash, manager.

Foes' Offensive Power

Hoping to settle the score for last season's scoreless tie, the gridders ran their mid-season slate to 4-1 with a 24-13 win at the expense of the Putnam City Pirates. PC led 6-0 early in the fracas, but a misfielded punt pounced on by Roger Mims set the stage for Grasley's five-yard scoring sprint three plays later.

John Marshall emerged as the leading contender in the northern division's 1-AAA race by downing the Knights 10-0. A hard-nosed defensive effort by Northwest limited a Douglass offensive attack to 25 net rushing yards, 23 passing yards and one penetration to spoil their homecoming 15-0.

The following week the Enid Plainsmen marred the Knights' homecoming 14-6 before 7,000 Taft Stadium fans in the season's last home stand. Both teams had trouble, with a total of 100 yards in penalties amassed between them.

A rugged defensive effort that choked a desperation drive on the four-yard line with 28 seconds left in the game proved a determining factor in Shawnee's 7-6 win over NWC.

In the season's finale with U.S. Grant, the team avenged last year's defeat by drubbing the Generals 38-14. A well-balanced attack with eight individual scorers kept the General defense off-balance.

MIDWEST CITY defenders Mike Armstrong and Tom Jones try vainly to catch Jim Grasley, who riddled the Bombers for 106 yards rushing. Knight blockers are Leonard West and Larry Govin.

B-Team Charts Future; Frosh Reveal Stamina

THE JUNIOR VARSITY and C-SQUAD teams fulfilled a full schedule as the B-squadders posted a 6-4 season, while C-squadders marked a less successful 3-5 record.

Accumulating 150 points to their opponents' 101 count, the Junior Varsity won contests over Harding, Capitol Hill, Putnam City, and Northeast. Highlight of the season was an impressive victory over a favored Midwest City team.

In the next to last game of the season, Coach Jeff Welborn's Knights traveled to Norman where a powerful Tiger eleven romped over Northwest 35-0.

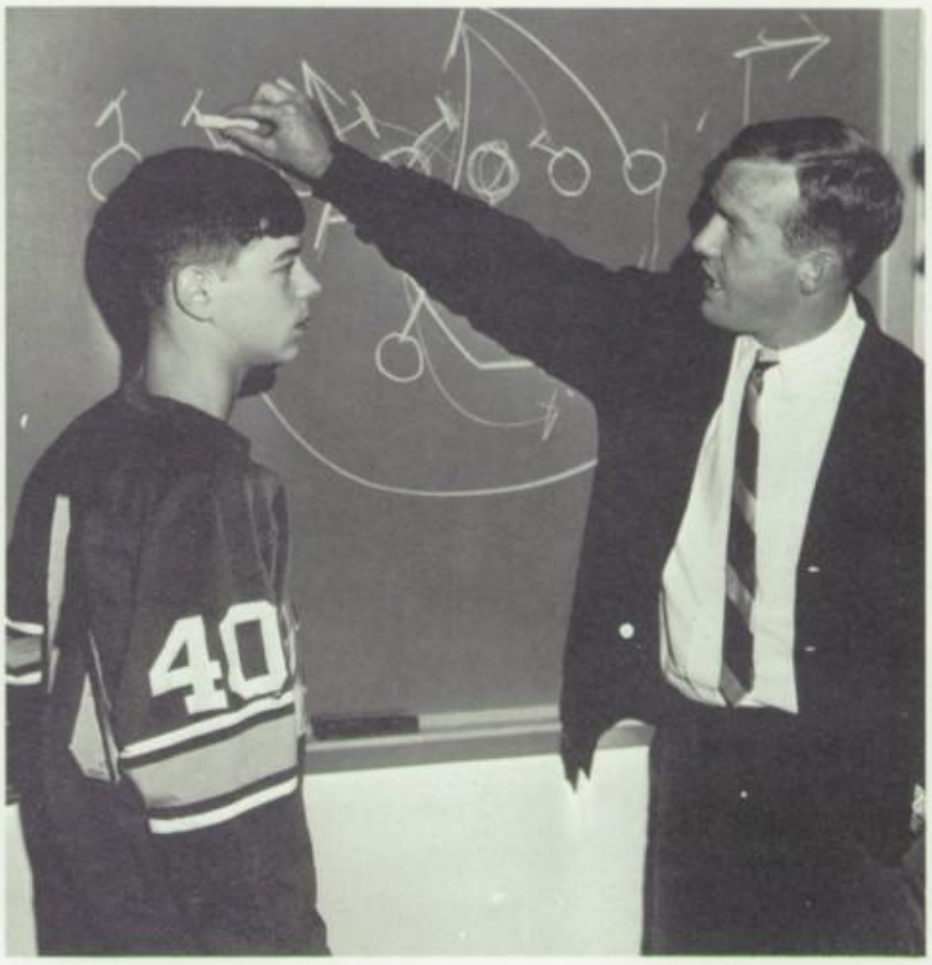
Leading scorer for the campaign was Barney Horrigan with 45 points, while Charlie Perkins proved to be outstanding on defense.

Under new C-squad head coach Rusty Palmer, the inexperienced C-team was outscored for the entire season by only ten points. The frosh defeated Northeast, John Marshall, and Star Spencer and lost to Harding and Douglass by just two points.

Marked improvement was shown in the final two games when Star Spencer and John Marshall were handed their only defeats of the season.

Quarterback Billy Clark and halfback Russ Kuritz were offensive standouts, while Mark Grimes and Mark Kent were defensive stalwarts.

THWARTING a John Marshall Bear drive by dropping the runner, Pat Kernan, for a loss is Knight defender John Swartzendruber.



"IN the twenty-eight sweep, you go this way," Coach Rusty Palmer explains blocking assignments to quarterback Billy Clark.

High-Spirited Harriers Garner Six First Places

RETURNING TEN LETTERMEN, the cross-country team ended the season by finishing first in all three duels, first in the city and Lawton Eisenhower Invitational and second in the Mid-State and Oklahoma Baptist University meets.

In the first three duels against Putnam City, Midwest City and John Marshall, Coach Rex Irwin's harriers posted perfect-scoring victories.

Senior Tom Payne clocked a 9:52 two-mile reading for the best showing by team members as he finished third in the Mid-State meet at the fairgrounds. U.S. Grant edged the Knights 38-42, low score winning, for the conference crown, with all five of its leather-lungers finishing in the top twelve.

Ralph Edwards and Jim Perkins placed sixth and seventh, respectively, to account for additional points in the meet. Payne finished second to lead the runners to a revenge victory over the Generals in city competition a week later.

At the state meet on the University of Oklahoma course in Norman, Payne and Edwards claimed seventh and fifteenth positions, respectively, to pace the team's fourth place finish. Tulsa Hale copped the crown, followed by Tulsa Central and Ponca City.

NEARING the finish line, Tom Payne attempts to move up during the state race eventually won by Lawton Ike's Willie Rios. Payne finished in seventh place.

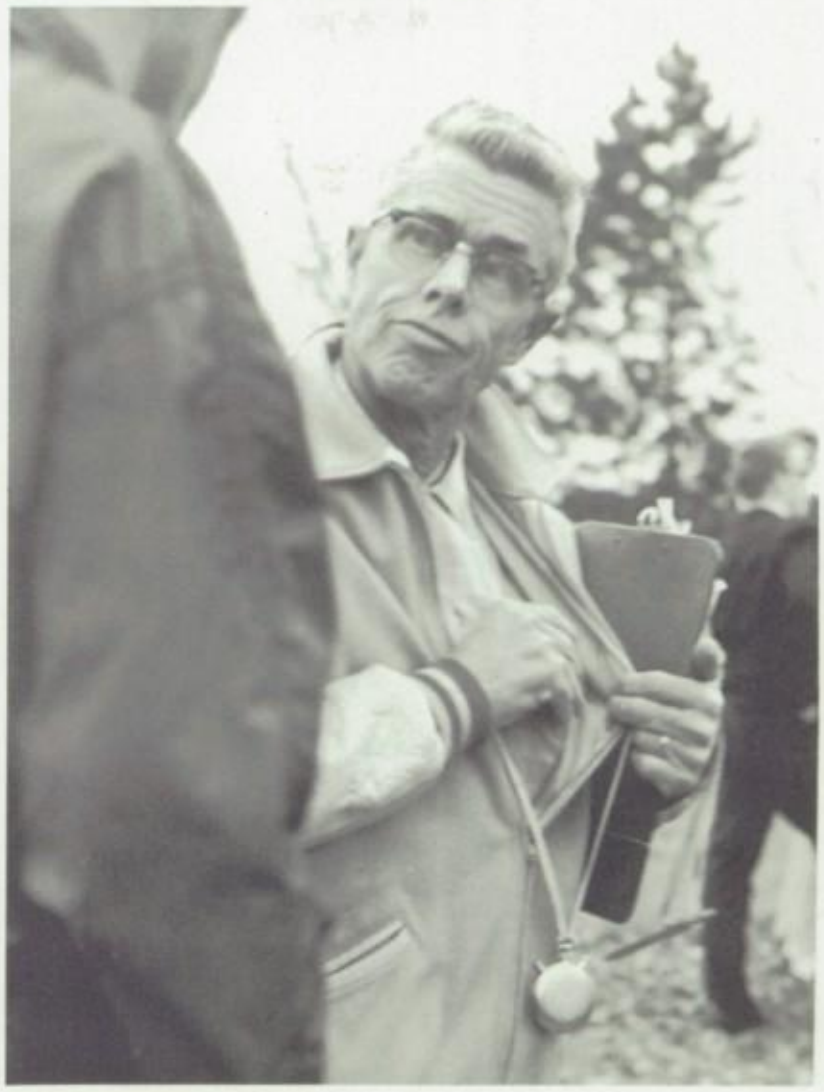
Seasoned Runners Race to Victories

RIGORS of the race are reflected on the faces of Bill Deeds and Jim Perkins after finishing their two-mile distance run in the Norman meet.



". . . AND THAT is final," insists Coach Rex Irwin as he emphasizes a point to one of his cross-countrymen during a meet.

PRACTICE makes perfect, hopes freshman Bill Lacy as he prepares for competition in track intramurals.

"WANT some expert advice?" asks Jim Ivins of Mark Harris as Ray Forbes contemplates his next move in chess. Allen Porter watches approvingly as the match progresses.

Intramurals Keep Pace With Students' Interests

TO KEEP PACE with the varied interests of students and provide an opportunity for non-varsity athletes to participate in athletic events, the intramural committee of Student Council offered an extensive program. Committee chairmen for the first and second semesters were Linda Moy and Les Smock.

All events were scheduled after school or on Saturdays. Athletes participating in the school athletic program were eligible to compete only in intramural sports in which they were not otherwise involved.

Competition began in September with football, followed by wrestling, basketball, and ping-pong. Alan McCarty and his Magnificent Mamas won first place in the volleyball event.

Next on the year's schedule were basketball intramurals, held in the boys' gym. The New Generation, captained by Chris Hughes, garnered first place honors.

Tentative plans for second semester included softball, bowling, tennis, and track. A recap of spring sports will be included in the summer supplement.

SENIORS Tom Stacy and Kim Finch team up to win doubles in ping pong.

Close Finishes Reflect Successful Campaign

COUNTING 13 wins in a 21-game regular season schedule, Coach Don Van Pool's cage crew tied for second with Putnam City in a hot Mid-State race.

A five-point spread (75-70) was the decisive margin of victory for Northeast's Vikings in the first contest of the year, November 26. Mike Page and Charles Ogden hit for 14 points each to lead a well-balanced scoring effort, while Larry Gatewood grabbed 11 rebounds to pace the defensive attack.

This season's Tulsa Hale Invitational crop proved too much, as the cagers were unable to retain the crown won the two previous seasons.

Despite Page's 15 points, Tulsa Rogers crushed the Knights in the first round December 2, 50-45. The Ropers' attack was directed by the Mutt-and-Jeff duo of Jackie Richardson (5-9) and Terry Malham (6-4), who hit for 12 and 16 points, respectively.

The following night Tulsa Edison stung the cage crew 70-64. Page again directed the offensive attack with 18 tallies, but it wasn't enough to offset point-production outputs by Edison's David Wagenblatt and Corky Sayles, who netted 27 and 19 points.

In the tournament's final night the squad got its first win of the season, as a 30-point outburst by Gatewood sparked a 70-46 conquest over Muskogee.

The first home appearance merited another 30-point barrage by Gatewood and a combined 65.4 field goal percentage that dropped Coach Lawrence Cudjoe's Douglass Trojans. Hubert Greenwood's field goal gave the Trojans an early 7-6 lead, but the cross-town rivals lost it permanently when J. W. Swartzendruber hit from the outside to make it 12-10 for the Purple-and-Gold.

Despite a third quarter press that threatened to shackle the offensive formation, the troopers squeaked by U.S. Grant 59-57 December 17 for their first conference road win.

A 21-point third quarter scoring splurge turned a see-saw battle into a 65-48 win over Harding December 21 in the loser's gym. Carrying a slim 29-26 advantage to the dressing room at intermission, the quintet erupted to cushion a 50-33 bulge into final quarter action.

Outscoring their opponents 13-4 in the second quarter, the cagers spurted past an early Midwest City edge to take a 46-33 home decision. The Bombers led 9-8 at the end of the first period before balanced efforts by Page, Gatewood, and Gibbs pushed the b-ballers ahead to stay. The trio finished with 13, 13, and 10 points respectively.

High-scoring endeavors from John Sneed, Gerald Frederick, and David Standage, coupled with capitalization on a stream of free-throw opportunities eased Putnam City by the Knights 74-65 January 11. The win was the ninth in a row and fifth in conference play for the Pirates, as they patterned a one-and-a-half game lead in the conference race.

Gatewood merited a 42-point performance to lead an 87-62 toppling of U.S. Grant in the second encounter of the two clubs. His shelling erased the school's former single-game scoring mark credited to Tracy Freeney in 1962.

As a result of Putnam City's loss to Midwest City, the team moved one-half game behind in the race for Mid-State laurels as they dealt Capitol Hill a 60-46 setback.

A crowd of 3500 packed the Knights' gym to witness the rubber match against Putnam City for the Mid-State lead. Gatewood pumped in 31 points, 15 in the fourth quarter, as the tree-toppers eked out a narrow 67-65 verdict. Coach Fred Dunbar's crew trailed 59-52 with 3:20 remaining, but goals by Standage, Clint Baisden, and John Sneed pulled them within one at 59-58 with 1:30 left in the contest. Gatewood and Frederick traded baskets, but the latter's free throw made it 64-63 with 50 seconds left.

Three Road Losses Fatal to Conference Fortunes

point edge, but Standage hit a hooker to pull it to 66-65 at the 30-second mark. However, Page, who had been forced to leave the game earlier with an ankle injury, hit a free throw with 13 seconds left for the margin of difference. Two shots by the opposition missed their mark as the buzzer sounded.

Fortunes during the next two weeks fell as the Knights dropped from their top perch all the way to fifth as a result of three road losses to Enid, Douglass, and Shawnee.

Revenge for its earlier defeat proved to be the motivating factor in the 66-61 home conquest over Enid.

The team moved into third place in the conference standings following its 71-54 drubbing of Midwest City's Bombers. Gatewood shoved through 32 to lead point production, while Bob Murphy's 20 paced the losers.

Rolling to a 14-point margin at halftime (36-22), the team was never in trouble as it poured on the pressure for a 72-42 nod over Capitol Hill February 18, as Ogden swished 18 to set the pace.

Ogden's hot hand prevailed the next night as the 6-5 senior hit a career high of 29 points to spark a 71-59 thrashing of Harding's Eagles. Prior to the game the Eagles were ranked fifth in state class AA polls, with the Knights occupying the ninth spot.

Coupling a 49-47 edging of Shawnee with a Putnam City loss to Mid-State champ Douglass, the squad finished in a tie for second in the conference with the Pirates, each sporting identical 9-4 readings.

Phenomenal Record Set by 'B' Basketballers

Losing only to Harding, Putnam City, and Douglass, the "B"-team won 15 of 18 games in seasonal action. Though this campaign saw the end of a 40-game winning streak in a heart-breaking loss to Harding, the squad was still unbeaten in 25 home games dating back to 1963.

B-ballers opened the schedule by defeating Northeast 45-37. Sophomore Tim Eaker led the scoring with 11 points. Next the young Knights downed Douglass 62-46 as Mike Sutter poured through 17 tallies. The season's third game saw the end of the winning spree as Harding cut-down the Purple-and-Gold 64-63 on a lay-up at the buzzer. Sutter's 21 counters spearheaded a 54-47 win from Midwest City in the next encounter.

Shawnee, Enid, and Midwest City then fell to Coach Jack Treat's charges by respective margins of 58-42, 62-45, and 63-57 to complete the season. In a three-year span, the "B"-squad has won an incredible 60 of the last 68 contests.

Coach Rusty Palmer's freshman cagers compiled a 10-2 slate. Both losses were at the hands of the John F. Kennedy Junior High frosh. The team gained valuable experience in a 59-49 loss to Putnam City's "B"-team, which didn't count on the regular season chart.

Top scorers for the year were Steve Mitchell, John Cheatham, and Paul Skaggs. Season highlights were victories over McGuinness (41-39) and Central (46-45).

Experienced Swimmers Anchor Steady Season

FINISHING their season with a 10-2 record, Northwest swimmers recaptured the Mid-State crown and placed second in city competition. Freshman Marty Schnetzler led the squad in scoring.

Although the team lost its first encounter with Harding (46-49), swimmers reversed the score in their second meet with the Eagles. This marked the first time the Knights have defeated Harding in six years.

In season duals Northwest overwhelmed Classen, U. S. Grant, Midwest City and John Marshall.

Mid-State championship was claimed by Northwest, placing first in five events, and setting a Mid-State record of 4:47.3 in the 400-yard relay.

As swimmers Marty Schnetzler, Stan Wilsey, Jim Walkup, Phil Cotter, and team captain Gene Smith carried the Knights into State competition.

Six Lettermen Set Pace in Wrestling Competition

RETURNING six lettermen to mat competition, the Knights opened the year's action on a winning note by defeating Classen and Putnam City in dual meets.

Journeying to Grant, the matmen attained a third place berth in the All-City tournament. At the Edmond Festival, the wrestlers placed third and rated fifth in a field of sixteen at the Geary Tournament.

Falling only to four teams, the Knights, under the direction of Coach Leonard Marcotte, boasted team scoring above average. Accumulating 82 points, senior Mike Andrews set the pace for the team. He was followed by junior John Reeves, 80; senior David Smith, 74; and senior Ralph Rogers, with 71 points.

Ending the season with a 5-4 dual record, the Knights rated fourth in the Conference clash and sixth in Regionals.

Four Knights qualified for the state meet. They were seniors David Smith, Ralph Rogers, and Mike Andrews, and junior John Reeves.

Sportswomen Retain District Championship

SPORTSWOMEN repeated as North District softball champions for the third straight year, while posting average seasons in volleyball and basketball and winning second in the City swim meet.

Coach Waynoka Lovett's softball team opened its season by overwhelming Star Spencer, Harding, and John Marshall by scores of 16-1, 8-6, 5-3, respectively, before winning second in the city and taking the district crown. The team's success was due mainly to exceptional pitching by Ellen Howard and hitting by returning letterwomen Sharon Rendel, Pam Crotts, Betsie Beausang, Jacque Thompson, Esther Brehm, Donna Geiger, and Nilda Reyes.

An inexperienced volleyball team finished its season play with a 3-3 record. Jacque Thompson turned in an outstanding performance.

Swimmers splashed to second place in city and fifth in the state meet under the supervision of Coach Margie Smith. In the state meet at Bartlesville February 18-19, Northwest came in fifth place. Katie Thornton placed second in the back stroke event and scored 14 team points in the individual medley team.

With five letterwomen reporting, the basketball team posted a 5-3 record.

Memorable First Year Rewarding for Class

FILLED with eager anticipation and a certain amount of awe, we launched our careers at Northwest Classen by participating in Orientation Day. How impressed we were with the "big operation" here as we listened intently to explanations by SC prexy John Myracle and other organization representatives.

Contagious was the school spirit pervading the patio at the "Howdy Mixer" where upperclassmen made a point to be friendly. The first nine weeks, filled with class elections, club meetings and our first pep rally, swept by quickly.

Our first report cards forcefully reminded us that there was a definite transition from junior to senior high and that we had to be on our toes to keep up the pace. The Shield became our calendar; we didn't want to miss a thing.

We learned to take the bad with the good, to give and take in daily relationships with classmates. Our advisories, where all grade levels were represented, were helpful in learning to understand the problems and ideas of upperclassmen.

Our first year was a great experience and we can hardly wait to enroll next year as full-fledged Heralds!

SPONSORING the freshman class is a big responsibility for Mrs. Linda Moore, Mrs. Judy Garrett, and Mrs. Ola Mae Oakes.

NUMBER ONE carpenter in stagecraft class is Kim Williams, building the old-fashioned pump for "The Miracle Worker" set.

CREATION of a young blind girl (Terri Manning) for her role in "The Miracle Worker" is a rewarding challenge for make-up artist Denise Moses, and Jackie Lamb (left), who worked on costuming for the production. Freshmen contributed varied talents.

"IT'S a Woman's world"—Top brass in the sophomore class checks out city parks available for the spring picnic: Betsy Alaupovic, pres.; Laura Turney, treas.; Janet Wiles, sgt.-at-arms; Chris Fineforock, v. pres.; Margaret Baxt, sec.

CLASS committees are carefully considered by two of the fourteen class sponsors, Mrs. Carolyn Wakely and Mrs. Marjorie Kozak.

Sophs Look Forward, Enjoy New Privileges

LEAVING the special ranks of the young, innocent freshmen, we tucked away in the darkest corner of our minds the mistakes we made last year. Determination to do better this year stemmed from a need to express ourselves and to be noticed individually.

Dreaming, glassy-eyed of future possibilities, we patterned ourselves after famed persons or pointed toward chosen professions. Ben Casey had nuthin' on us when we performed surgery on a live rat in biology. New ways of using postulates, theorems, and corollaries, worked only one way for centuries, showed many geometry teachers there were potential Einsteins in their midst.

Comparison and "constructive" criticisms of Silas Marner and A Tale of Two Cities revealed a marked leaning toward talent for the demolition squad. Raising a real "Hullabaloo" in our black leotards, we became Joey Heathertons in Modern Dance class.

Privileges given to the sophomore class were fully enjoyed when we became big sisters and helped to initiate "ducs". Joining Courtesy Club and Key Club without any added initiation chores was a relief.

Passing of Sword Sign of Changing Leadership

WE, THE CLASS OF '67, standing midway on the path to Knighthood, embrace the past with fond remembrance and face the future with longing. We look back with pride on our achievements and gaze forward with anticipation to the lofty heights of Knighthood as we advance toward its shining light.

Climbing the trail blazed by Knights of old, we accept eagerly their challenge to carry on the emblem of proud Knighthood as they have done, with victory and honor.

Our bewilderment after taking the National Merits was soon overshadowed by the excitement over long-awaited class rings and the prom, in which we took so much pride in planning for the soon-to-graduate seniors. And then came the realization of our changing position as our friends were elected to places of leadership for the coming year—Our year.

With the passing of the sword passes not only the traditions and dreams of the past, but the responsibilities and goals of the future.

With courage and vision, inherited from our predecessors, we, the Squires of today, have grown in this tradition of Knighthood worthy to become the Knights of tomorrow.

"DON'T you think 300 is too many?" Junior sponsors Berniece Wester and Susan Davis cut the excused list of prom decorators to a bare minimum.

AUDITIONS for Senior Assembly find class officers Tom Stacy, Fred Gagliardi, and Charlene Prevett amused by antics of talented (?) classmates trying out for coveted parts in the annual show, presented May 20 in the school auditorium.

Proud Seniors Point to Four 'Special' Years

AS four jam-packed, unforgettable years end, our class of '66 proudly points to an impressive four years of class spirit which has proven this class to be filled with "very special people."

For three years we looked forward to our turn to sit on the front row of pep section, socialize with alums at the Homecoming dance, and sit back while the juniors hosted the prom.

But behind all the antics, blunders, and predicaments we've fallen into, there has been an underlying sense of responsibility and concern, not only for ourselves, but for our class and our school.

We marked each event with a little more meaning than other Knights because we knew it was our last football game, pep club banquet, variety show, Round Table assembly in this big, wonderful school of ours.

Even though we look back with nostalgia at the twelve school years which flew by so swiftly, we eagerly face the challenge of the new life ahead.

But through our goodbyes is the assurance and satisfaction that we have left our mark, and an indescribable feeling when we hear our motto "You-Knighted by Pride and Loyalty."

"YOU can sit on number 44," secretary Ramona Sewell tells treasurer Charlene Prevett as officers plan seating arrangements for graduation exercises at Taft Stadium. Tom Stacy, vice pres.; Fred Gagliardi, pres.; and Larry Gatewood, sgt. at arms, try to follow instructions.

Knightland Shares Memories of '65-'66

. . . The game is over. The team may not have won, but several thousand fans shout their support from the stands. Suddenly the noise of the crowd fades, and Knights rise for the proud solemn singing of the Alma Mater: " . . . our love will be your glory . . . "

. . . It's 3:30. Three thousand students are suddenly in a hurry as they flash-flood out of the main doors.

Nearing the exits, the mass abruptly parts, carefully sidestepping the marble-tiled Knight's Head in the center of the floor . . .

. . . Class is over. Students hastily gather books and belongings and look expectantly at the teacher. She nods, and they file out. No bell rings.

Distinctive impressions are indelibly imprinted in your memory. You have begun to understand yourself and your role in the pattern of life so firmly established at Northwest Classen.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Round Table '66 marks another chapter in the lives of the 3,050 students attending Northwest Classen.

To the many persons who have given so much assistance and cooperation in this publication, we, the 1966 Round Table Staff, gratefully acknowledge our indebtedness.

Although there are far too many people to recognize each individually, we would especially like to thank the student body who made this book possible, the faculty and Principal J. Frank Malone, who cooperated so patiently, when we needed help.

Also thanks to Mr. Barclay Curtis, Taylor Publishing Company consultant, Wagner's Studio, Curtis Studio and Mrs. Walter L. Sutton, Roger Myers' Studio. Finally, a special word of gratitude to our adviser, Mrs. Elizabeth Burdette.

A twenty-page summer supplement which will include awards, spring sports, and prom and graduation events, will be mailed to purchasers in mid-summer.

Diana Moses

- Jeff - (So a real cute boy)
It really has been a BLAST this year, knowing you as long as I have!!
Youre a wonderful person with a "WILD" personality.
And when you went with Mary some wild-things happened!! I hope you have fun this summer, and we might see each other. (I hope)

Love always
"Your friend"
Pam WEBER

We can always be the best of FRIENDS! SR. '69"

- Jeff -
You're a real cool guy who have had a lot of fun with this year.
I hope the rest of the way you are real successful so far in life. You will have much success in the future.

Love always,
Patti

-Jeff-

to a real neat guy.
I wish I knew ya better - Maybe I'll see ya this summer
sometime! Good luck always. Love
Chris Singerman
(Bill Chepello)

-Jeff-

Well, don't you think our study hall is kinda wild.
You really added to the Crazy things that happened.
You're really a nice guy.
I may kid you alot but
I really don't mean it.
Be good and have fun.
(I know you're sure going to try).

Love
Jan

Jeff,
to a real good
Ole boy in Biology
I you don't rest at home sleep in Biology
This summer remember to raise hell above all others
